DEDICATION

THERE are certain extra-curricular activities that add immeasurable knowledge and pleasure to the life of the student. Such activities incorporate the spirit of music, the thrill of sports, and the feeling of drama, as well as the practical acquisition of language, mathematics, and science. The good deeds of the service clubs in the daily routine form another bountiful source of education and amusement.

These sources, however, would be bereft of their value were it not for the generosity of the faculty members who sponsor the activities. Their never ending interest, their helpful advice, and their reliability make possible the establishment and maintenance of clubs and teams that contribute to the training for adult life. To them are we indebted for what we have gained, and to them we dedicate this AITCHPE 1932.

PREFACE

THE theme of the "Aitchpe" 1932 is ACTIVITY. By this we mean the enjoyable participation in activities that are not included in the regular curriculum.

Working in our organizations gives us an opportunity to satisfy our inner desires and develop our natural talents without the restraint of the average class room discipline. Ordinarily we are confined to 'readin', writin', and 'rithmetic,' but extra curricular activities loosen the reins which hold in our abilities and give them free play to forge ahead. The self satisfaction of laboring voluntarily at a task that has been the result of personal choice instead of assignment, is not easily surpassed. The joy of realization of long cherished ideas and that of accomplishment gives us a feeling of power that will retain its force in later life.

This power, this ability to act on our own initiative, is what gives us a good perspective and the confidence necessary to meet successfully difficulties of a practical nature when we are compelled to face them. Such an ability, although developed to a point of theoretical perfection in the classrooms, needs the background of extra-curricular activities to make it useful.

In choosing an art scheme, apropos of our theme, we have chosen one that will reveal our nature in a more frivolous vein, the joyous and gay side of school life. The figures are rollicking and characteristic student poses drawn with a modern interpretation.

STUDENTS' activities in Hyde Park are supervised and directed by an administrative staff which maintains contact with pupils through means of the teachers. This staff puts forth all its efforts to guide students to a good education and a sound basis for various careers. The staff is composed of Mr. Loomis, principal; Mr. Smalley, assistant principal; Mr. Williams, dean of boys; Miss White, dean of girls; Mr. Penhallow, head of the branch, and the teachers.

Daily association between teachers and pupils provides a sympathetic understanding between the two groups. When difficulties arise, they are ironed out by means of this association, and scholastic tranquillity is restored.

Freshmen, new in the ways of selecting courses of study are aided by the faculty in choosing the proper course to fit their needs or desires. Language, science, commercial, social science, and art courses display their advantages to the newcomer for his personal choice. These various types of study are connected with corresponding departments, each of which is under the direction of a department chairman.

The English department is supervised by Miss Buchanan. In the language department, Miss Jackson leads the Latin section; Miss Johnson, the French; Miss Peede, the Spanish; and Miss Witte, the German section. The mathematics department functions under Miss Shoemith's care; Mr. Hipple holds the position of chairman in the social science department, while Miss Schurz holds sway in the commercial department. At the head of the music department is Mr. Robinson; in the art department, Mrs. Lewis. Mrs. Perham and Mr. Hasan are the heads of the physical education department.

In the three and a half years of required work in the English department, the student learns to read and write correctly, and at the same time, becomes acquainted with the many achievements of English literature. Additional opportunities are given in elective work which include courses in journalism, modern literature, general survey of English literature, and dramatics, all of which are fourth year subjects, excepting journalism.

Courses have been planned most attractively for the linguist. He may choose Latin, French, Spanish, or German, and take four years of one, or divide his course, taking not less than two years of any one of them. In the first year, pronunciation and grammar are studied, and as the student advances, he delves into foreign literature.

Students desiring to work in technical fields may obtain a firm foundation for such in the department of mathematics. Among the subjects taught are algebra, plane geometry, advanced algebra, solid geometry, trigonometry, and college algebra. A year of algebra is required of all pupils in the four year courses. Since most colleges require such, a year of plane geometry is usually taken.

The science courses open up a wide field of interest for the student. General science is required of all freshmen in the four year course. In this year the student makes a limited survey of the entire field of science. If he is interested in botany or zoology, through his activities in the laboratory he becomes acquainted with the living things on earth; through the discussions in class, he learns of their economic importance to man. In physics, the student gains a knowledge of the constitution and properties of matter, mechanics, sound, light, heat, electricity, and magnetism. Composition of matter, and the transformation it undergoes, intrigue the student of chemistry. Astronomy acquaints the student with the composition of the celestial bodies of the universe.

Students primarily interested in the social sciences have within their grasp courses in English and United States history, ancient and modern; social studies, economics, civics, and commercial law. The purpose of the department is to fit young men and women for living usefully and happily in their community. In order to accomplish this, the student first secures a knowledge of the past by means of the history courses. Then he is prepared to take part in a lively discussion of present day affairs.

The individual who plans to enter the business world after graduation is well trained through courses offered in the commercial department. These include stenography, typing, bookkeeping, clerical practice, filing, calculating, salesmanship, and commercial geography.

The music department offers many opportunities. Two semesters of music are required of pupils in the four year courses, although many of them avail themselves of the opportunities in the music circles, which include participation in singing and in the playing of musical instruments.

Most advantageous are the activities of the art department to the talented young artist. Although the average student takes but one year of art work, instruction may be taken either in free-hand or mechanical drawing, others may major in art.

The purpose, which the teachers in the physical education department strive to realize, is the development of physical vigor, of nerve force, of bodily control, and of skill in athletic endeavor, so that the student may be a participant in many kinds of athletic activities.

If a boy prefers military training to athletic training, he may join the R. O. T. C. Woodshop is offered to the boys, while girls may choose sewing, cooking, and household management.

The class room affords a practical but limited study of the subject; however, the members of the faculty in sponsoring those organizations so much a part of the life of Hyde Park provides the student the opportunity to broaden his knowledge of the subject in which he is especially interested and, moreover, to gain those social contacts so essential to school life and which the class room does not afford. Hyde Park has many such organizations, each field of learning with its due share of extra-curricular activities.

AS in the distance looms the shore of a new world, which for three and one-half years the members of the February Class of '33 have striven to gain, these students look back with satisfaction upon a voyage filled with pleasant memories and cherished friendships.

Launched upon the high seas as freshmen, eager to prove their ability, the members of the class were as yet unheralded. But as sophomores with friendships formed, and the foundation for the important phases of their future school life, begun as freshmen, and now firmly established, these young men and women, conscious of the many opportunities which Hyde Park affords, began to show their merit in many fields.

Having weathered many a storm, they emerged, with colors flying, as full-fledged juniors, receiving recognition for their increasing ability in the field of scholastic achievement, athletic prowess, and extra-curricular activities.

Now as seniors upon the crest of the wave of accomplishment, the class can point to its members, prominent in superior scholarship, athletic activities, literary endeavor, music and dramatic circles, and the many organizations to which Hyde Park lays claim, as having upheld the traditions and high standards of Hyde Park, with the true spirit.

But before relinquishing their secure position for the uncertain destinies of the future, as a final tribute to their alma mater, they gratefully acknowledge their appreciation for all that she has done for them.

BOYS' GYMNASIUM CLASS

Mr. West

Mr. Hasan

Mr. Schmidhoffer

Mr. Schultz

Mr. Rhorke

Faculty of Boys' Physical Education Department

THE physical education department has a two-fold duty to perform: to instruct gym classes, and to develop student material for participation in sports. Both the large and small gymnasiums are in constant use from eight o'clock in the morning until five at night. The average-sized class is over one hundred—too large, really, for much individual attention. With such handicaps Hyde Park has developed winning and placing teams.

Mr. Ernst Schmidhoffer, a graduate of the Normal College of National Scholastic Union and senior member of the department, conducts gym classes and directs interclass games for those who are not good enough for regular team play, but who wish to enjoy the sport. He also uses these interclass games to point out to the coaches the men who will be future stars. Mr. George West's talent is employed to coach golf and swimming, and he has developed many valuable teams for Hyde Park. Mr. Lloyd E. Rhorke, former football coach and a graduate of the University of Chicago, now teaches physical education in addition to conducting academic classes in social science. Although new to Hyde Park, Mr. Elliott Hasan, a graduate of the University of Illinois, coaches the basketball lightweight team, the football team, and the tennis team. The teams feel that they profit greatly under his instruction. Mr. Henry Schultz, a former Hyde Park athlete graduated from the University of Chicago, has an exceedingly fine record to show for his coaching of the heavyweight basketball team. He also labors with baseball.

The work of these men has made Hyde Parkers realize that their guidance has been stimulating to the participants in all sports and has done much to increase student interest in interscholastic athletic activities.

Football

THE 1931 football team, led by co-captains Bob Perretz, all-city guard, and Jim Velde, all-city quarterback, went through the most successful season in many years, despite the difficult schedule that confronted it. The team, composed mostly of veterans of two and three years, needed only the support of the school and a few good breaks to prove its quality.

Coach Hasan wasted no time beginning to drill the squad, starting practice during the winter months in the gym where he gave the candidates track work and calisthenics to keep them in trim for the spring work-out.

Spring football offered the boys an outlet for their excess energy. Many strenuous drills were given them under the able instruction of Mr. Hasan and Mr. Schultz, who assisted in the coaching. All excess weight was sweated off the boys in the warm spring days. The new candidates, especially, suffered in the few scrimmages held. Despite a few broken ankles and noses, the practice disclosed many able gridmen.

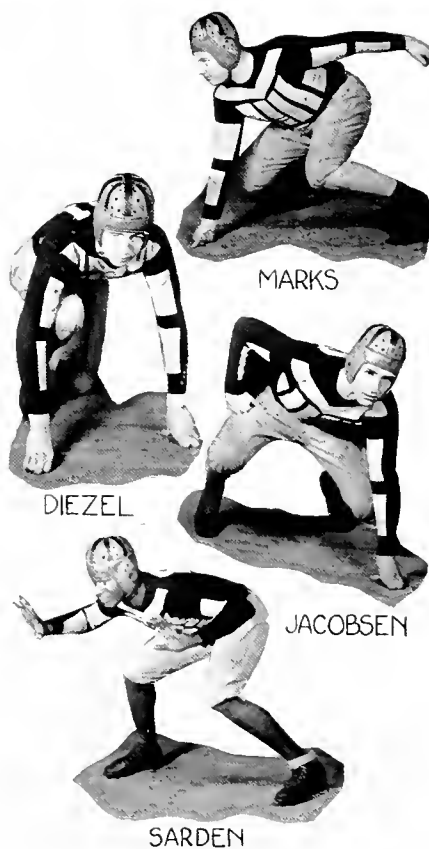

LINDBLOM

On September 26, after a few short weeks of practice, the Stony Islanders invaded Marshall, emerging morally victorious with a tie 2-2. The Coach felt encouraged as he had started his second team. Following this evenly matched and close game Hyde Park battled Parker, the 1930 South Section Champs, and lost a heart-breaking game 12-6. As in many such contests the score failed to show that Hyde Park completely outplayed its opponents. The Blue and White touchdown was made by co-captain Velde. Next the boys in blue invaded Bloom Township, defeating them by the score of 14-0.

The boys were now ready for Lindblom, 1930 City Champs, in the opening league game. They emerged from the slush and slime holding the invincibles to a score of 13-6. After the Lindblom game, the Aitchpe gridders, stocked to the gills with confidence, met Englewood, their traditional rivals, at White City. They went out on the field expecting the Englewood boys to lie down and let them win. A scrappy and determined team, however, met our boys and trounced them to the tune of 19-6. This defeat took the heart out of the men as they met Bowen. Although superior in quality all of the fight had disappeared from the team, thus we tied Bowen 6-6, the opponents score coming as a result of a blocked kick. There was a question over Bowen's touchdown, but the contest was not replayed.

Hyde Park then traveled to Wheaton to play a night game. Unaccustomed to this new type of play the men received their worst beating of the season from a flashy team, 20-0.

Now the boys had only one more league game to play, this one being the Tilden game. The newspapers considered it a mere formality in completing Tilden's schedule. All agreed except a certain eleven boys from Hyde Park. In a close and breath-taking game the Aitchpe boys fought their way to a surprising victory over the Tilden team with a score of 7-6. This victory, moreover, was proof of Hyde Park's ability, heretofore hidden by bad breaks and over-confidence.

Following this victory the boys traveled to LaGrange, where their rejoicing was silenced when they met defeat at the hands of a well-trained eleven by the score of 14-0. This completed the most successful season for Hyde Park in many years. Although the team will suffer a loss of all but two of its lettermen it expects to make a good showing next year.

Mr. Hasan will continue his practice of pre-season training that has already done a great deal in producing better teams. Although comparatively new in school, Mr. Hasan is very well liked by the boys who enjoy laboring under his able instruction. His experience from coaching at the University of Illinois has proved to be of great value in his short career at Hyde Park.

Letters were awarded to: Ends—Diesel, Meyer, Johnson, Jacobson; Tackles—Sardon, Schwab, McComb, Good; Guards—Perretz, Guest, Marks; Center—Kushner; Backfield—Velde, Kincy, Keane, Lewis, Mooth, Polacheck.

Numerals were awarded to Gilbert, R. Havner, and W. Kushner.

Heavyweight Basketball

THE team, led by Captain "Addie" Carr, started practice for an exceptionally successful season early in November. With nine veterans returning and much promising new material, chances looked fine for the season of twenty-two scheduled games.

In the first practice match of the season, Hyde Park lost to Crane, by the score of 43-15. New Trier also proved better as the lop-sided count of 36-11 plainly showed. Following the two severe drubbings, Hyde Park hit its stride and defeated Marshall by a last second "bucket," 23-21. Before Marshall evened things by defeating the boys 20-18, Hyde Park scored victories over McKinley 18-7, Parker 24-21, and Fenger 33-17.

The boys in blue and white then worked strenuously in preparation for the Stagg tournament to be held during the Christmas vacation. In this tournament, Hyde Park demonstrated its quality by trimming Bowen, 26-24. Hyde Park then swept through to the semi-finals by trouncing Antioch 27-16 and Morgan Park 25-14. In the consolation round the weary Hyde Parkers were defeated by Crane 29-21, this loss dropping them to fourth place in the Stagg tournament.

At the beginning of the league season, the unstable financial condition of the public school system forced the athletic board to shorten the length of the league schedule to four games.

Englewood, always a well-feared rival, suffered a loss this time by having the short end of a 19-14 score when the whistle blew. Another fierce traditional rival, Phillips, suffered from the superior basketekers from Hyde Park by the score of 19-14. With a victory over Tilden 26-24, Hyde Park prepared to fight Bowen in the city semi-finals. They lost, however, to the superior long-shooting Bowenites by a score of 19-18, thus ending a very successful season.

Letters were awarded to Sotos, Carr, Hadhazy, Thompson, Underhill, Gaebe, Wetzel, Chomsky, and Stratton.

Lightweight Basketball

AT the call of Coach Hasan, a large group of eager fellows reported for lightweight basketball. After a careful weeding out process the team was selected. In its first practice game it lost to Crane 15-13 before travelling to New Trier where they were also beaten 19-12. Marshall next took the ponies 18-16 as did Parker 24-13. Before playing a return game with Marshall, in which they were beaten 32-14, the boys also lost to Fenger. As the league season approached Guess was elected captain in place of Martin, who graduated. Another nick was taken out of the boys by Englewood's Lights with the close score of 19-15 in the first of the three league games. The boys then met Lindblom, just before Lindblom discontinued athletics, and lost 25-18. Now the Lights were left to uphold our record against Tilden. The boys were determined and fought their way to a moral victory, 23-23. After this fine showing, a return game was played against Fenger where the team avenged their former defeat by a score of 19-15. In the second Parker game, however, the Lights lost a heart breaking contest by a last minute rush, the score being 16-15 as the whistle blew. This completed the schedule.

Then the team decided to try its skill at the Illinois State Championship at Cicero. They spent many days of strenuous preparation for this tournament and were rewarded for their efforts by going to the semi-finals. They conquered Pontiac 19-18, but were beaten in the semi-finals by Morton 17-16 in one of their hardest fought and tightest games of the season. Thus the boys completed the season and stowed away their uniforms. Considering that they were all new men this year, the team made a very good record. Coach Hasan, also, was well pleased with the team. He believes that the experience they have gathered in the past season will make them hard to beat in the future.

Letters were awarded to Martin, Stone, Guess, Button, Blond, and Davidson.

Baseball

COACH SCHULTZ had little hope for a successful season since very few men were returning. There was also some doubt for a while whether or not athletics would be continued on account of the present depression. The basketball team, however, succeeded in making enough money to pay its own expenses and those of the umpires for the baseball team. The players must buy their own bats, balls and other equipment. The boys spent a couple of weeks of hard work in preparation for the practice games. Being very inexperienced, they were playing raggedly, as a green team will, without the least trace of teamwork. They started off in grand style by defeating Roosevelt 1-0 and Parker 6-3. The rest of the practice season was a complete failure, if scores are considered, with Hyde Park losing to Fenger 5-3, Morgan Park 6-5, and Bowen 4-1. Art Cohn was elected captain with the approach of the league season. Inexperience combined with sloppy playing spelled the doom of the

PRACTICE?

Hyde Park Ball Club as the standing indicated with 8 losses and no wins. The pitching of Cohn and Metzger was of no avail, although very brilliant, since the rest of the team specialized in wild throws and fumbles.

The hopes for a better team next year are much brighter for more boys will be back and the team will be better equipped.

At the time of going to press letters had not yet been awarded.

Scores of the league are as follows:

Englewood . . . 5	Hyde Park . . . 4
Tilden 15	Hyde Park . . . 2
Lindblom . . . 9	Hyde Park . . . 5
Phillips 7	Hyde Park . . . 2

Scores of return games were as follows:

Tilden 11	Hyde Park . . . 0
Lindblom . . . 11	Hyde Park . . . 0

Senior Track

ON YOUR MARK

THEY'RE OFF

MANY returning lettermen and promising rookies answered the first call for the Senior Track Team. The team scored a decisive victory over its old rivals, University High School, 44-22. Graduation then claimed Captain Yedor, Mintz, and Kopakin. Solomon was elected for the remaining part of the season. The team, strengthened by the advancement of many Juniors and a strenuous practice, continued to win by trouncing Fenger 47-19, Bowen 46-20, but it finally suffered defeat in a quadrangular meet with Senn, Tilden, and Lakeview, placing second. In the city meet, the team made a poor showing, scoring only four points.

Solomon was the outstanding member of the team, scoring the most points during the season. The team is expected to have a better outdoor season since Coach Hasan will be able to spend more time with the team. More Juniors are also expected to advance to Senior ranks soon. At the time of going to press letters had not yet been issued to those members who have won them.

Junior Track

THE Junior Track Team, composed of track men under the age of sixteen, had little hope for a successful season due to the fact that only one veteran was returning. Many new men reported, and after a long and hard practice the team made a fine debut by smothering University High School $45\frac{1}{2}$ - $4\frac{1}{2}$. Despite injuries and a scarcity of men due to advancement to Senior rank, the team made an excellent showing in its practice season by defeating Fenger, 45-5, Bowen 46-4, Crane 32-19, and placing second in a triangular meet with Senn and Lakeview. Ineligibility claimed two or three of the most promising runners as the team entered the City Championship Meet. In this meet Hyde Park tied for second with Crane, a fact due chiefly to Halcrow's victory in the 660 when he broke the city record by almost two seconds. The prospects for a good outdoor season are not very promising because many men have become Seniors. At the time of going to press letters had not been issued.

Senior Swimming

READY.....

COACH WEST, swimming instructor, expected to make a fair showing with his seniors as he considered his material good. He was disappointed, however, because the pool was closed for repairs early in the season. Since the improvements were finished very late, the boys were compelled to do some heavy splashing in order to get into shape. When they met Bowen, in the only meet of the season, they were defeated by a close margin. In the Cook County qualifying round, J. Brown was the only Hyde Park man to place. Gene Richardson was elected Captain with the approach of the city meet. With very little practice they entered the city meet but no one qualified for the finals. Next year Coach West has high hopes as the team will be bolstered by many promising juniors and should do much better. At the time of going to press, letters or awards had not yet been issued to the members of the team. Better luck next time, senior swimmers!

Junior Swimming

VERY few men turned out for the team at the first call; therefore, a captain was not elected. The team started practice and, just as they were getting into condition, the pool was closed for repairs. This checked all activity, interrupted practice, and proved to be a serious setback. Because of their loss of practice time, when the team did attempt to get in trim as quickly as possible, they found that the loss was a great hindrance to them. Thus through no fault of their own, they suffered defeat at the hands of Bowen, their only opponent of the season. In spite of the disadvantage at which they had been placed, two members of the team were successful in the qualifying rounds for the city meet. Jack Rowland splashed his way to the final but failed to place, but Stauffer, the fancy diver, put up a real battle of twists and turns and fought his way to a victory. With the use of the pool, the team expects to do big things next semester.

Golf

THE golf team had very bright prospects for the season because almost all of the returning men were veterans. Although humbled in a practice match with Culver Military Academy by the very uneven score of $3\frac{1}{2}$ - $11\frac{1}{2}$, the team continued practice, met the Thornton Township Team, invincible for two years, and defeated it, $7\frac{1}{2}$ - $4\frac{1}{2}$. In the qualifying round for the State Championship, three Hyde Park turf-diggers were successful. Ascher led with a 76, followed by Humphries and Kamsler with 79 each. Handicapped by the lack of rest following a quick trip, none of them played well in the State Meet.

Eddy was elected captain at the beginning of the season for the sectional championship. The team, functioning in perfect style, won the sectional championship by downing Lindblom, with a score of 10-2, Parker 11-1, Tilden 12-0, and receiving a forfeit from Englewood. The team then had to wait until fall for the city championship, in which the winners of the various sections met. It continued its winning streak, improved by a full summer of playing, and swept through to the city championship by vanquishing Bowen 9-3, Schurz $9\frac{1}{2}$ - $2\frac{1}{2}$, and Roosevelt $8\frac{1}{2}$ - $3\frac{1}{2}$. The city individual championship was won by Captain Eddy, with 18 points, followed by Ascher only $\frac{1}{2}$ point behind.

With Ascher, the newly elected captain for the spring semester, the team has high hopes as the state meet approaches.

Major emblems: Eddy, Ascher, Humphries, Mather, Schoffler, Oppenheimer, and Kamsler. Baker received numerals.

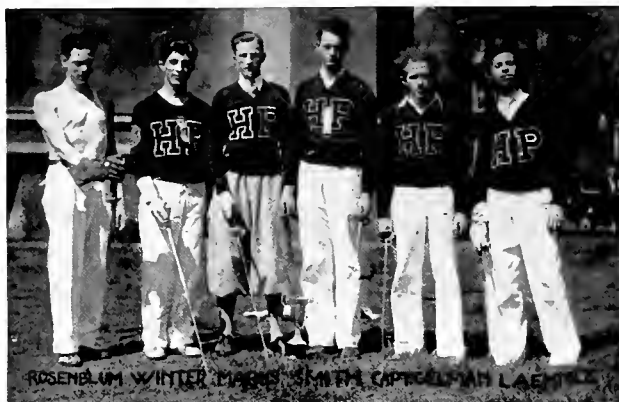

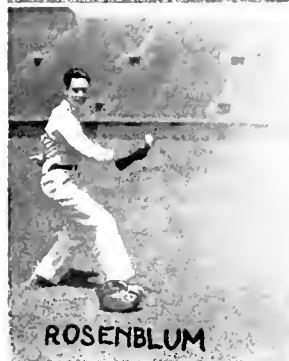

Tennis

THE Tennis Team, the champions of 1930, with all men returning but "Red" Carrigan, seemed a strong contender for another championship for Hyde Park. In the sectional matches the team made a clean sweep by defeating Tilden, Lindblom, Englewood, and Phillips without losing a single set. Thus advancing to the semi-finals, the Aitchpe net men met and defeated Parker 2-1 in a very close and high strung match. Trev Weiss lost his match against Schostrom 6-2, 6-1, but Sid Weiss evened the meet by defeating Snyder 6-4, 11-9, with very little to spare. It was then up to the doubles team composed of Winter and Miles. The match was a fight to the finish but Arnold and Armsbury, the Parker duet, were finally subdued 6-1, 5-7, 8-6. The Hyde Park racket men then found themselves in the championship finals pitted against Lane. They were confident of victory, perhaps too confident, as the score showed with a victory for Lane, with a score of 2-1. Sid Weiss was the only Hyde Park man to score a victory.

In the qualification rounds for the State meet two Hyde Park doubles teams entered and qualified. Captain Winter and Mertz, for two years state champions, qualified as did Hyde Park's other flashy duet of Miles and Walker. By May 21 Hyde Park hopes to have another state doubles championship. This will be the first time in the history of Hyde Park that a championship is won three years in succession. The men, moreover, are confident of another victory.

Major emblems were awarded to T. Weiss, S. Weiss, and Winter. Numerals were awarded to Mertz, Walker, and Duhl.

Fencing

THE team, with a fairly good record and with all veterans returning, expected to accomplish things in the ancient and noble sport of fencing. It entered the Cook County Team Meet against eleven other crack teams and finished second to Lindblom. Captain Gelman led the scoring, winning every bout with the ease of a champion. A second team was entered in this meet but failed to place. The rib ticklers next entered the Cook County individual meet and, after many tough battles, Winter won second place only one point behind the winner, followed by Smith in third place. Both received medals. The last meet before the state meet was the American Association of Fencing Tournament in which Smith managed to get fourth place followed by Winter in fifth place. The team then practiced faithfully in preparation for the oncoming state meet. After a hard fight they were rewarded for their efforts by winning the State Championship. Winter led the scoring by conquering all whom he met in brilliant style. Despite their ceaseless efforts they won by the slim margin of one bout. Worn out by their previous effort the strain proved too great and none were able to place in the individual state meet. Graduation will claim every member of the team, but they have worked hard and prepared a group of rookies who will try to carry on when they have gone. The team has made a fine record despite the fact that it is without an instructor.

Major emblems were awarded to Gelman, Winter, Smith, Marks, Rosenblum, Goldberg, and Manager Laemmle. All will receive armbands.

Cheerleaders

TTEAM! Rah! Sisssss—Boom—Bahhhh! Hyde Park, Yea! and many other such yells are those that helped to lead our teams to victory. Someone must be there to start the yells and lead them. This position is that of the cheerleaders, those energetic young fellows who go through all the queer contortions, losing their voices in an effort to arouse the spirit of the Hyde Parkers. If those indifferent ones in the stands, who do not choose to yell, would attempt to lead a few cheers, they would soon understand the hardships of our cheerleaders.

Before these boys appear in front of the grandstands, they have a long test. First they must answer the call for cheerleaders and display their wares before the critical eye of Miss Leitch. She selects a certain number of the boys and they begin their work to get into form. Many exercises are given them and finally—the first appearance. Many a wobbly knee and shaky voice have accompanied a cheerleader's first solo. They, however, quickly get used to the jeers and cheers of the crowd and function perfectly as you see them in action during football, basketball, and baseball games.

Among the best known rah-rah men of Hyde Park are: Captain Orman, Herb Joseph, Al Ratner, and Trevor Gelick. Others who will soon be seen in action are M. Ratner, Fischer, and Silverman.

Letters were awarded to Orman, Gelick, and Joseph.

Interclass Basketball

EVERY year an interclass basketball tournament is held in order to develop and bring forth new men for the teams. The division rooms of each section play an elimination round to pick the best team of that section. The winners of each section then play a round-robin tournament to decide the championship.

In this tournament Miss Johnson's 1A Division Room was at the bottom of the heap, losing three games, with Mrs. Maloy's 3A Team winning one and losing two. The seniors, represented by Miss Walker's Division Room, were finally subdued in a close game by Miss Moore's sophomores, who won the championship. A trophy was presented by Mr. Hasan, who gave his unselfish efforts to make the tournament possible.

Mr. Hasan also sponsored a Free-Throw contest open to all. The entries were high, and it took almost two weeks to complete the contest. After eliminating many "dead-eyes," Bernstein was crowned champ.

Boxing and Wrestling

EVER since Mr. Hasan has been in Hyde Park, he has endeavored to organize a boxing and wrestling club in accordance with his belief that every boy should be acquainted with the manly art of self-defense. Finally, when he announced his intention, he was rewarded beyond his expectation by a large group of boys eager to learn what they could about fistic encounter and the science of wrestling. Mr. Hasan also started the organization with another purpose in mind. He has hopes that in time all high schools will have boxing and wrestling teams and that the sport will become an interscholastic athletic activity. He rightfully deserves much credit for his ceaseless efforts. In offering our congratulations to him we sincerely hope that his plan will meet with great success.

Managers

FAR in the background of the sports stage, obliterated by the star acts of the various teams, are the managers, noticed very little, but absolutely necessary in order that the play go on. Without these hard working fellows little could be accomplished. They must take care of the uniforms and other equipment, make schedules, carry luggage on trips, and be always at the beck and call of the coach and team members. Their work is hard and thankless since all of the glory and praise that is heaped upon the team is diminished to nothing before reaching them. There has been much discussion in the past years about the subject of awarding letters to managers. Without managers a team would be at a great loss. Thus the success of a team depends largely upon the efficiency and responsibility of the managers. To these boys who have so willingly given their service in the past year, we offer our thanks and appreciation.

HANDICAPPED by the State Law which prohibits girls' teams from competing inter-scholastically, Girls' Athletics are yet of fundamental significance to the school. Girls require physical activity and athletic competition as well as boys, and it is to fill this need that the Girls' Athletic Association has been organized. In this organization, officers, sport board, and faculty sponsors cooperate in planning and directing the numerous sports and tournaments that go to make up the Girls' Sports Calendar. The intramural competition is based on the point system by which a girl earning 1000 points is awarded a school letter.

The Sport Calendar is widely inclusive. The Fall Season brings Hockey to the fore, with Volley Ball following close behind. The Basketball Season comes early in the Spring. Baseball, of course, is next on the program. Competitive swimming is also restricted, yet members of the team practice faithfully. The Life Saving Class is a recent and a very popular addition to swimming activities.

On the side are the tournaments. Horse-shoes, Tennis, Fencing, and Golf offer an interesting variety and prove highly popular. These tournaments are organized and run off by the sport board official under whose jurisdiction they come.

The high-light of the year is the grand banquet or carnival where the letters, chevrons, bars, and Life Saving emblems are awarded, and the G. A. A. year officially closed amid gay festivity.

Hockey

CRISP fall weather is a signal for the Hockey season to begin. Each year the Midway is the scene of drastic conflict as the girl athletes wildly and enthusiastically wield hockey sticks in frantic endeavors.

This year, three teams were formed: one advanced team and two beginner's teams. Under the expert coaching of instructors from Kendall College, the girls practiced the various tactics that scientific playing necessitates.

A round-robin tournament was then organized. On subsequent Mondays, three games were played. "Pat's Pills," the advanced team, captained by Pat Weeks, defeated Alice Nichols' squad by a score of 3-0, and was victorious over Phyllis Lackey's team by 6-0. Nichols' team also defeated the Lackey team by a 6-0 victory. A game was then arranged between the Weeks' and Nichols' teams. On a wet muddy field the Nichols' team battled to a hard-won victory over "Pat's Pills." Inclement weather, however, closed the season early, and consequently, "Pat's Pills" was declared the championship team.

Volley Ball

THE ever-popular game of Volley Ball holds full sway through the winter months. The small gym is the scene of joyous activity, as each Tuesday and Thursday the numerous teams compete for the championship.

Each class, excepting the 1B's, was represented in the round-robin tournament which followed a month of instruction. Twenty-eight games were played. The 4A team, captained by Virginia Murphy, upheld tradition by winning every game. The Juniors, led by Dorothy Johnson, gave the Seniors much opposition, losing but two games. The Sophomores entering two teams in the tournament that played valiantly and well. The Freshmen, likewise, played cheerfully against the upper classmen.

The championship game between the Seniors and the Juniors ended the 1932 Volley Ball Season with a 39-12 victory for the Seniors.

The fine spirit of sportsmanship evinced by the girls, together with the increased skill of the players, combined to render the season most satisfactory.

SINK IT, PAT!

UP 'N AT 'EM!

BASKETBALL has been deemed the most popular game on the G. A. A. sport calendar, and judging from the large turn out, such would seem to be the case.

On Mondays and Wednesdays the several tournaments were run off. The winning teams were: Marjory Charles'—Freshmen; Sara Soifer's—Sophomores; Kathryn Carlson's—Seniors. Kathryn and her Senior champs then played against Marjory and her victorious freshies, defeating them by an overwhelming score of 39-2.

April 13 was the day set for the big championship game between the Senior champs and the Sophomore winners. Admission of one cent was charged. Interested spectators were not disappointed in their expectation of seeing a good game. The Seniors maintained a margin of two points ahead, and finally achieved a 7-5 victory. It was a well-fought game, the Sophomores giving evidence of fine sportsmanship and championship qualities. This game terminated the Basketball Season.

Buckle, Kohn, Sherwin, Stressen-Reuter.

Baseball

SPRING and baseball are synonymous, and the girl athletes respond joyfully when the baseball season is opened early in May. Invigorating spring weather lures the players outdoors; a vacant lot, conveniently located north of Smith Hall, is the scene of speedy footwork and snappy headwork as the various teams battle for the championship.

The baseball tournament was conducted as was the Basketball tournament. In the Freshman-Sophomore division, four teams were formed. These teams competed against each other in a round-robin tournament. Two teams were organized in the Senior-Junior section. The victor of these two was scheduled to play the champion of the Freshman-Sophomore division, the winner of this game to be declared the champion of the 1932 baseball season.

Due to the fact that the tournament extended until June, the identity of the winning team must, for the present, remain a mystery. A picture of the captains of the teams must therefore suffice.

Inter-Class Volley Ball

READY AND SERVE

PUSH IT OVER

A NEW feature was introduced into Girls' Athletics in the form of an inter-class Volley Ball tournament. Each gym class entered one champion team, there being a total of twelve teams in the competition. The girls showed their good sportsmanship by turning out en masse and heartily supporting the tournament.

The contest was run off by the elimination process. The Tuesday-Thursday 5th hour team, captained by Andrea Houyoux, won the championship. Lillian Guttridge's team from the Wednesday-Friday 2nd hour class was runner-up. The score of the final game was close—10-9.

This year, a Basketball tournament between division rooms was organized. The girls were highly enthusiastic over this addition to their sports calendar and prepared eagerly for the tournament. Unfortunately, the boys required the use of the gym; consequently, it was impossible to complete the contest. This inter-division room idea was so enthusiastically endorsed by the athletes that another may be organized next season.

Life Saving

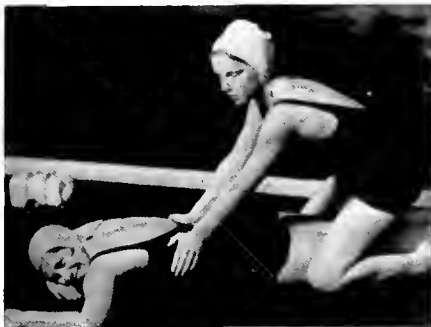

THE greatest attraction for Hyde Park girls in the swimming pool is the Life Saving class in which ambitious mermaids are trained for the Red Cross Life Saving Examination.

After weeks of practice, a number of girls were declared ready for the test. The official Red Cross examiner, Mr. Scheuenflug, conducted the examination. The "exam" includes: three different "carries" preceded by the proper approaches, three "breaks," surface dives, disrobing in the water, and the Schaffer Method of Resuscitation. Those passing the Senior test were required to break two drowning persons apart, to float for one minute, to tread water for thirty seconds, and to perform the Fireman and Saddle Back Carries.

To each girl who passes the examination, a most attractive pin and badge are awarded, as well as a membership in the Red Cross Organization. In addition, the girls receive one hundred points toward their coveted H. P.

HARD AT WORK

Publications

It is believed that more enjoyment is derived from the publication division of extra-curricular activity than from any other connected with the school. The fact that students are striving more than ever for positions on the various staffs gives proof of its popularity. Those that participate in this work are, however, not the only ones sharing in its advantages as these publications have become absolute necessities to many of the student body. The interest and devotion of the students have resulted in the production of publications which have been distinguished by All-American Honor Awards.

Hyde Park boasts three main publications: The Scroll, the magazine; The Hyde Park Weekly, the newspaper; and the AITCHPE, the yearbook. The Story Scribblers Society was established as a suitable outlet for those students who possess the creative urge to write short stories or poetry. Each semester the result has been assembled in The Scroll. This year because of economic conditions it was considered best to discontinue, for the present school term, the publication of the magazine; the society, nevertheless, is still continuing with its customary good work under the guiding hand of Miss Hinkley. It is hoped that next year an improvement in financial conditions will enable The Scroll to be published in the same inimitable manner that it was in the past.

The Hyde Park Weekly in student life is comparable to the metropolitan daily in adult life. The staff experiences the same labor, the same rush, the same thrills of production that the city newsman does. It has the same purpose, to give a complete review of the news of the school, sport reports, subtle humor, editorials—high points of the activities of the week. Under the leadership of Mr. Robert R. Darling the staff has been accorded two signal honors, the presidency of The Illinois State High School Press Association and the All-American Honor Award of the National Scholastic Press Association.

Because of the fact that the AITCHPE is published only once a year, each issue is extremely important to the students who cherish the book, not only for its complete record of the school activities of the year, but also for the richness of the memories which are stored away for future reflections. It is generally acknowledged that the value of an annual increases as time slips away. It is with this aim that the annual staff has attempted to assemble to the best of its ability this yearbook. The staff hopes that the student body receives half as much enjoyment reading the important and interesting events of the school year embodied in this book, as it had publishing it. The 1931 AITCHPE received All-American Honor rating from the National Scholastic Press Association, an honor which all agree was due to the untiring efforts of their sponsor, Miss Leitch.

THE Senior Sponsor System, a project of the January class of '29, has become an established institution and a fine accomplishment of Hyde Park. Under this system, at the beginning of every semester a boy and girl sponsor are assigned to each freshman and 2B Branch division room, and the entire first year is spent under the guidance of these sponsors, who are outstanding members of both senior classes.

The purpose of the Senior Sponsor System is to assist the freshman to adjust himself to the complexities of high school life—to help him to bridge the gap between grade school and high school—and to prepare him for the varied activities of the upper classman. The duties of a sponsor are therefore many, but briefly the duty of a sponsor is to watch over the freshman and to have a vital interest in his physical, mental, and moral development.

These students who have so willingly and faithfully devoted their time and untiring efforts to the performance of the many duties of a sponsor have made the Senior Sponsor System an indispensable part of the life of Hyde Park, and have earned for it the deserving admiration and appreciation which it has received from both the faculty and the students.

Though the sponsor seemingly sows more than he reaps from his service, the responsibility of being a sponsor adds to the enjoyment of being a senior, for it provides interest and constructive work, and invaluable experience.

THE Public Relations Bureau Speaking Committee serves the school in a most valuable way by bringing the community to a better understanding of the work and activities of Hyde Park. Through the members of this committee the neighborhood clubs, civic organizations, and parent-teacher associations become better acquainted with the progress made in our school in both the cultural and practical fields of education, and with the service that Hyde Park renders the community; and the members of graduating classes of grammar schools in the Hyde Park district become familiarized with the wide variety of student activities and interests that Hyde Park affords.

In this work much has been done in the past year, and Mr. Williams, is responsible for the excellent talks given by these students, for he devoted much time and energy in coaching them on public speaking and in offering helpful suggestions for their improvement.

THROUGH its excellent work the Stage Force has made for itself a very important place in the life of Hyde Park; yet no other organization receives so little encouragement from the student body. Under the direct and capable supervision of its three technical sponsors, Miss Gilbert, who supervises the stage settings, Miss Highly, who has charge of the costumes, and Mr. Curtiss, who is the adviser on the carpenter work, this group of students aids in staging all dramatic and musical productions, and all assemblies.

In designing, building, and handling all scenery, arranging stage property, and having control of all lighting effects, the Stage Force enables the school to save a great deal of money which otherwise would have to be spent for expert stage assistance; and thus it keeps the cost of admission to school productions at a very low figure.

This year with comparatively little material to work with the members of the Stage Force have proved themselves well qualified for their task.

THE Box Office, as the only organization in the school existing solely for the purpose of assisting other Hyde Park organizations by handling the publicity and ticket sales for their various activities supported by the student body, renders an invaluable service to the school. During the year the Box Office organized and conducted the sales campaigns for athletic events, plays, the operetta, both senior assemblies, the Young Peoples Symphony Concerts, the Chicago Mendelssohn Club Scholarship Concert, and the Washington trip, in addition to assisting in the selling of tickets for such affairs as dances given by Hyde Park organizations; and through the daily bulletin, newspaper articles, sales talks, and posters designed by art students, conducted the publicity campaigns for all these events.

The members of the Box Office staff, chosen by the sponsor, Miss Leitch, were selected, not only for their willingness to work, but also for their honesty, efficiency, salesmanship, sense of responsibility, and tactfulness.

In spite of economic conditions and the curtailment of athletic activities, according to the report of Mr. Byland, the school treasurer, the Box Office receipts for this year compare very favorably with that of last year. This reflects credit on the good management of the Box Office, and the staff deserves much praise for their successful efforts on behalf of Hyde Park activities.

HYDE PARK'S long awaited public library was made a reality in September of last year. After many years of effort the faculty and students succeeded in obtaining for Hyde Park this branch of the Chicago Public Library. Miss Farrell was placed in charge with Miss Mariotti as her assistant. The library functioned, however, as a regular branch for only one semester, for the great cut in funds made it necessary for the Main Library Board to eliminate the circulation of all books in high school branch libraries, to discontinue the purchase of current magazines, and in order to further reduce expenses at Hyde Park, to dismiss Miss Mariotti.

Five Hyde Parkers faced these situations and remedied two of them. In the spring of '32, under the leadership of Charles Browning and Shirley Stone these students organized a student staff, volunteering their services to aid Miss Farrell, and in working with the English Department were able to secure current magazines for Hyde Park's library. One member of the staff assisted in the library each period of the day, working constantly keeping the room in order, checking and arranging books, and aiding the student to obtain his desired material.

Hyde Park can well be proud of these students, and if the future affords such energetic, capable, willing, and dependable students who will volunteer to serve on the Library Force, it has every prospect of becoming a permanent institution.

Hope Selects Queen

Chicago Coed Named All-Campus Ruler, College's First in 71 Years.

Holland—Hope college joined in the coronation parade Wednesday with the naming of the first all-campus queen in the institution's 71-year history. The honor went to Miss Katherine Eldridge, a senior whose home is in Chicago.

She will be crowned amid pomp and ceremony at the annual all-college banquet Friday evening.

The coronation idea hit the campus through efforts of the Women's league, which includes all girls at Hope. Selection was by outside judges from among 18 senior girls chosen by eliminations. The basis of judging included scholarship, beauty, poise, character and student activities.

Miss Eldridge is an honor student, president of the French club, vice president of Sorosis literary society, representative on the Pan-Hellenic council and active in the Women's league.

Members of Queen Katherine's court will be six of her senior classmates, including the four who ranked next to her in the contest. These are Miss Jane Eldridge, sister of Katherine, and Miss Angelyn VanLente, Miss Ruth Allen and Miss Christine M. Verhulst of Holland. The queen will elect the two other attendants Friday.

An elaborate coronation setting will surround the festivities Friday, with trumpeters, pages and all the other appendages of a regal court. The queen will preside over the awarding of athletic and other activities awards.

KATHERINE E. ELDRIDGE.

Queen Katherine will reign until May 8, when a junior class girl will be chosen as victory queen at the first annual all-girl sport and field meet. The junior queen will represent Hope at the M. I. A. A. field meet.

The committee in charge of the coronation banquet consists of: Chairman, Dorothy Parker of Rutland, Vt., Hildegard Bos of Rutworth, Henrietta Bast of Fennville, Marjorie Moody of Hart, Lester McBride of Delmar, N. Y., Charles Steketee of Holland, Herman Luben of Coopersville and Allen Cook of Coopersville.

HYDE Park is very fortunate in having such an efficient and serviceable organization as the Lost and Found. This group, first organized by the Student Council and now under the direct supervision of Miss Robb, affords the students and the school the opportunity to recover lost property. During the past year the Lost and Found has increased greatly in efficiency due to a new system of receipts and filing, installed near the end of the fall semester. The new system of receipts, besides providing a definite and adequate means of disposing of unclaimed articles, furnished an incentive for turning in lost articles while the new filing system eliminated any chance of misplacement of valuables after they had been turned in.

The Lost and Found is equipped to give the most efficient, satisfactory, and accurate service possible. In short, this organization renders a service unique in its completeness, and its staff deserves a vote of thanks for their effective work.

THE Civic Industrial Club, foremost among Hyde Park's service organizations, has just completed another year of varied activity for the benefit of the school and the community. As in previous years, the club furnished the school washrooms with soap and towels; conducted a weekly inspection of the washrooms, drinking fountains, and division rooms in their efforts to keep the school clean; distributed "School Ideal" cards to IB division rooms; sold Christmas seals; assisted during fire-drills along with their campaign for fire and accident prevention; and sponsored student excursions, a dance ending each semester's extensive membership drive, and the annual spring clean-up campaign in the Hyde Park district.

THE Pythagorean Club has the distinction of being the most exclusive organization in Hyde Park. To become a member a student must have had three years of mathematics with grades of at least four "S's" and two "E's" and must be taking a fourth year. Keeping in mind, however, the fact that all teachers do not grade alike and that some excellent students, who are in most respects the equals of Pythagoreans, might miss the necessary average by one point, this year the club started a group called Wranglers. These Wranglers, most of whom were later admitted as regular Pythagoreans, were given the opportunity to work with the club in order that they might prove their ability.

The main purpose of the Pythagorean Club is to make a comprehensive and intensive review of algebra, geometry, and trigonometry, and the completeness and thoroughness of these reviews is well illustrated by the results of the many contests held at intervals during the year.

In bringing together the best mathematical minds in the school for discussion of unusual and difficult problems and instruction in higher mathematics, the club gives these students the opportunity to prepare themselves more thoroughly, not only for college entrance examinations, but also for competitive examinations for scholarships in mathematics.

In the annual competitive examinations given by the University of Chicago, the Pythagoreans have an enviable record of achievement; notwithstanding, they could not claim this record, but for the whole-hearted and unselfish interest of Miss Shoesmith, their sponsor.

ARISTOI, Hyde Park's honor Latin society, was organized six years ago by Miss Jackson for the purpose of training students desiring to take the entrance examinations required by eastern colleges. Gradually, under the able guidance of its two sponsors, Miss Bridge and Miss Jackson, the club assumed the responsibility of training students for the University of Chicago Latin scholarship examinations, and thus far its efforts have met with unusual success, as almost every year a member of Aristoi has won either a scholarship or honorable mention.

Aristoi, as its Greek meaning "the best" suggests, is one of Hyde Park's most exclusive clubs, membership to the organization being limited to only those students having an "E" or "S" average in six semesters of Latin.

The work of the first semester began with a review of Latin grammar. Upon completing this review, the club commenced intensive work on Latin composition and written translations from previous college entrance examinations. While Miss Jackson supervised this work, under Miss Bridge's tutelage the work of preparing and reciting upon difficult translations was undertaken, and much work was done in sight reading.

To Miss Bridge and Miss Jackson much praise is due for their tireless efforts, which in a large measure are responsible for the many accomplishments and continued success that Aristoi has enjoyed.

FOR the first time in three years, Junior Aristoi was again organized this year. It was established, however, as an organization distinct from the senior group, with officers of its own and Miss Bridge and Miss Jackson as sponsors. Since the existence of the club depends upon the willingness of the advisers to continue their work, praise is due them for assuming the responsibility of sponsoring this organization. The qualifications for membership are essentially the same as those for the senior group, an average of "E" or "S" in four semesters of Latin being required.

As an informal Latin study club whose purpose is to further the study of Latin prose and literature, Junior Aristoi furnishes those students who wish to later become members of the senior group the opportunity of becoming proficient in the reading and writing of Latin.

Conforming to its policy of reading modern Latin, during the year the club held many interesting, entertaining, and profitable meetings doing this sort of work; and the many different types of selections all served to strengthen the ability of the members to read modern Latin. In addition to this, much original writing, including poems, skits, and short stories, all exceptionally well written, was done by the members.

Both sponsors find Hyde Park's elite group of junior Latin students a most enthusiastic and intelligent group capable of doing excellent work.

THE Society of Belles-Lettres, Hyde Park's junior English honor society, was organized in response to a need felt by third year students for a club which would offer the opportunity to gain knowledge of English literature and poetry and to do composition work, and most of all would foster free and intelligent thought and discussion. Membership was restricted to students having an average of "E" in English throughout their high school career. The primary object of Belles-Lettres, however, is the preparation of its members for scholarship and entrance examinations in English, especially for the English scholarship examination of the University of Chicago.

The first semester several classic novels were read and discussed, debates were held in connection with this work, and many constructive and highly enjoyable games were offered as diversion for the members. The club also presented a parody on "King Arthur and the Knights of the Round Table," in which were used the names of famous characters from the novels read by the club.

The second semester the programs were more varied and even more interesting, for a carefully-prepared schedule embracing the whole semester was adopted for use. This schedule provided for theme assignments, oral talks on diverse and interesting subjects, practice tests from different universities, a study of poetry, and the reading of classical and modern literature.

The members have succeeded in creating an exclusive yet amicable atmosphere, heightened by the pleasing personality of Miss Tunnell, their guiding hand.

Chemistry Club

THE Chemistry Club, formerly open to any student interested in chemistry and who wished to enlarge his knowledge of that subject, this year made a change in its status and was established as an extra-curricular class in chemistry with membership restricted to only those students having excellent grades and who were willing to put in time and effort. The instructor of the class was Mr. Ralph Steinberg, a University of Chicago student and a former Hyde Parker, who obtained a scholarship in chemistry four years ago. This was not the first time Mr. Steinberg had assisted in this work. For the past few years he had taken it upon himself, together with the aid of one or two other University students, to tutor pupils of his alma mater who were interested in entering the annual chemistry scholarship examinations given by the University of Chicago.

This year's class was really an enlargement upon those which Mr. Steinberg had been conducting for the last three years and was in the nature of an experiment in research education. No tuition was charged, and lectures were given at the University twice each week by Mr. Steinberg and his associates. Occasionally prominent members of the University's faculty delivered the lectures. The course was both interesting and instructive inasmuch as the latest experimental chemistry—that which has not as yet reached the text book—was studied by the group.

Only Hyde Park students were in the class, the purpose of which, as far as the pupils were concerned, was to serve essentially as a preparation for the University of Chicago's scholarship examination in chemistry. With such excellent instruction as these students have received, they cannot help but make a meritorious showing.

AS in previous years, this year Senior Girls' Society was again a very active and worthy organization. Its enjoyable social activities and most entertaining meetings promoting friendship and good-will among its members, its huge Freshie Frolics welcoming incoming freshmen girls, and its liberal charity program doing much good have made the Society an important addition to Hyde Park's many organizations. With Miss Biggs, a most delightful sponsor, as their companion, Senior Girls have completed a most pleasant and worthwhile year.

REORGANIZED in the fall of 1930, the Senior Boys' Club has filled a real need in the school club program, providing senior boys a necessary outlet for social activity and promoting good fellowship among them. The club is sponsored by Mr. Williams and is most grateful to him for his aid and coöperation.

The eagerness and enthusiasm of the members have made this year a banner year filled with many activities. The club began the year's program in the fall, shortly after the entrance of the freshmen, with their semi-annual Freshie Frolic for the freshman boys. At this gala affair the club staged the biggest boxing and wrestling show since the all-charity event two years ago. Many of Hyde Park's most prominent athletes participated in the matches, providing thrilling entertainment for the freshman boys.

The next event, the biggest and most successful ever undertaken by Senior Boys' and one of the biggest and most successful of any that took place during the whole year, was the talking picture program held in the school auditorium, December 18. Approximately nine hundred students attended this presentation of the first talking pictures ever shown at Hyde Park. The afternoon provided a most entertaining and varied program. Besides the main feature—"The White Hell of Pitz Palu," a drama of the alps—two comedies, an educational film, and a newsreel were shown. The admission was ten cents, and Senior Boys' donated all the proceeds to charity. As the success of this production was so unusual, the club hopes to make it an annual event.

Not content to rest on its laurels, the club sponsored a lecture by "Big Bill" Tilden, champion tennis star. Before an enthusiastic audience of nearly eight hundred Hyde Parkers, Mr. Tilden lectured on many phases of tennis, providing a very profitable afternoon for those fortunate enough to hear him.

In the spring, after the election of officers, the club again took over the Freshie Frolic for the freshman boys, and after much preparation it proved to be an unusual success. A nose-pushing peanut relay, wheelbarrow races, two-legged marathons, and a talk on basketball by Captain Geuss of the light-weight team furnished exciting entertainment, and much to the delight of the freshies, refreshments were served to all those who attended.

In addition to these many achievements, as part of its program for the year, the club established a cheerleading section of senior boys for all basketball and football games.

The Senior Boys' Club numbers among its membership the best of the school's athletes as well as those in other important extra-curricular activities, and the high standards, which the club has maintained, make it evident that an organization of this sort will always be a great force for good in life at Hyde Park. The type of activity, which membership to Senior Boys' affords, offers wide opportunity for service to the school and to fellow classmates.

May future members continue to follow the fine example set by the former organizations of Senior Boys' and accomplish as much excellent work.

THE members of the Aitchpe Tribe, Hyde Park's official lettermen's society, can look back on the past year as one of the most successful in the history of the club's existence. This year the tribe accomplished much in the realization of its many aims—to foster greater cooperation between the athletes and the school, to stimulate the interest of the school in all athletic activities, to keep before the school the traditions of the team, to foster the athletic spirit and the spirit of true sportsmanship, to uphold the honor of the Hyde Park athletic emblem, to encourage higher scholarship among the athletes, to promote and encourage courtesy among the student body, and to provide social activities for the lettermen of the school.

The Tribe has done much to achieve these aims. During the first semester it conducted a clean-up campaign in which each member endeavored to help keep the school clean; sponsored a pep assembly for the Lindblom football game, the first league game of the season; directed a "Beat Englewood" parade; and gave a most successful "Beat Englewood" dance in the Big Gym.

The outstanding event of the first semester, however, was the Tribe Trot, the club's semi-annual dance, held December 4, in the Big Gym. Tickets for this dance were both admission tickets and dance programs with each dance named in honor of a prominent Hyde Park athlete, and a cash prize of two dollars was awarded the person holding the lucky ticket. As a fitting close to the first semester, the members of the Tribe decided to have an official Tribe jacket. The jacket is a navy blue corduroy with the head of an Indian chief, the name of the club, the name of the owner, and the sport in which he won his letters, emblazoned on it.

With the second semester came a complete reorganization of Hyde Park's lettermen's society. Under the constitution drawn up by a committee of club members and ratified by the members of the club, the sponsor, the men and women gym teachers, and Mr. Loomis, the principal, many of the past policies, rules, and regulations of the Tribe were discarded for more satisfactory ones. This step was considered necessary in order to give the Tribe a firmer foundation for continuing its excellent work.

Among the many changes wrought by this constitution was the great change in the requirements for membership in the Tribe and the establishment of a public relations committee to acquaint the members with what they might do to further the development of the club. Following the suggestions of this committee, the club determined to sponsor inter-class sports, to hold assemblies for each of the various sports, to take charge of the guard posts at basketball games, to admit Tribe members free to all games, to hold informal weekly luncheons as Tribe get-togethers, to conduct a campaign requesting Hyde Park students to wear only Hyde Park letters, and to continue the courtesy campaign introduced the previous semester.

To Mr. Raymoth, the faculty adviser, much credit is due, for, by his commendable efforts in arousing enthusiasm for the Tribe's many undertakings, he launched the club on the year of its greatest activity.

SENIOR GIRL RESERVES, Hyde Park's most cosmopolitan club, is an organization open to all sophomore, junior, and senior girls, which endeavors to establish bonds of understanding and friendship among Hyde Park girls of different nationalities, by giving them the opportunity of knowing each other and of working together in civic, service, music, and social groups.

This year the club has been exceptionally active. During the fall semester it gave a Hallowe'en costume party, a mothers' and daughters' tea, and a Christmas pageant. The Birthday Ceremonial also stands out especially among the meetings of the fall semester. Other meetings representing a wide range of interests, provided many good times for the girls throughout the year.

Not only do the Girl Reserves help each other through their meetings and social functions, but they learn the significance of a helping hand by extending it to those less fortunate than themselves. This year the service work of the club was done at the Home for the Friendless.

The club also participated in several city-wide events, being well represented at a birthday party celebrating the fiftieth anniversary of the Girl Reserves and at the vesper services held at the University of Chicago Chapel.

THE A Clean Life Club, organized nine years ago, stands for clean living, being opposed to smoking and drinking. In its endeavors to raise the moral standards of the school, members must sign a pledge not to do either. The foremost purpose of the club, however, is the maintenance of a seventy-five dollar pledge to the P. T. A. scholarship fund for needy students.

This year the club again held a membership drive both at Hyde Park and the Branch and at several grammar schools in the Hyde Park district. In conjunction with these drives the club conducted a poster contest and at the close of the drives gave a fudge dance, at which the poster awards were made and the 100% A. C. L. rooms were presented with banners.

At the meetings of the A. C. L. many kinds of entertainment was furnished the agents. The club also provided other interesting entertainment for the agents in the form of a tour through Chinatown. Still another form of entertainment was provided, as this year the club organized a debating team to challenge anyone in the school to a debate on some phase of the smoking question.

Though the agents derived a most profitable year from their connections with the A. C. L., at the end of the fall semester it was thought best to disband the club until present economic conditions would permit of a reasonable number of members to make the activities of the club worth-while.

SINCE its organization in 1906, the French Club has offered to those students who desire a more thorough knowledge of the French people, their manners and customs, their history and literature, and their famous men and women, a fine opportunity to acquire this knowledge and to increase their ability to read French and to converse freely and fluently in the French language. The highlights of the past year were many, delightful French music, lively songs, lovely poetry, amusing plays, charming stories, and clever games providing intensely interesting, highly entertaining, and varied programs.

Starting the year's program off, Miss Sisson entertained the club with many of her experiences during her travels abroad. At another meeting early in the year, the members were royally entertained by several humorous short skits and pantomimes presented by the French classes.

In November, in celebration of Armistice Day, a very enjoyable short French play, concerning an incident during the World War, and a few sketches of famous World War heroes furnished a pleasant program. Also that same month the club held its semi-annual bridge party. All conversation was carried on in French resulting in many amusing situations and a merry time for all.

As another red-letter day in the first semester, Le Cercle Français was afforded a novel entertainment consisting of an exchange program between Hyde Park's French club and the French club of the University high school. The latter was the first to present its program—two excellent short French plays, "Nicette" and "Rosalie." In return Hyde Park presented a delightful puppet show, "Au Valeur," before the University High Circle. Both performances were so enthusiastically received that it is hoped that these programs can be repeated often and that the friendship between the two clubs will continue.

As a grand climax to a perfect fall semester, Hyde Park's own dearly-beloved Mlle. Favard, formerly a teacher at Hyde Park as well as the author of the French grammar now in use here, was guest speaker on her annual visit to Le Cercle Français. The club's guardian angel (for it was Mlle. Favard's pupils who organized the French Club twenty-six years ago) spoke to the interested French students of her travels through India.

At the beginning of the spring semester a new and unusual plan was inaugurated to give the members more time to devote to their special interests in French. The club was divided into two groups. One group met every first and third Monday of the month and was conducted by Miss Sisson for those members who wished to learn and sing French folk songs. The other group, restricted to third and fourth year students, met on the second and fourth Monday of every month and was under the leadership of Miss Slaughter, who assisted the members of the group in reading and enacting plays. During April the first joint meeting of the two groups was held, providing a diversified and most enjoyable program given by representative members of both groups. These joint meetings gave each group a chance to display its talents and accomplishments.

At the close of a most successful year, Le Cercle Français gratefully acknowledges its appreciation of the aid of its friends and advisers, Miss Slaughter and Miss Sisson.

THE Classical Club is one of Hyde Park's oldest organizations, and is affiliated with the Classical Club of America, having been organized as a branch of that national association. As its purpose is to provide a broader, cultural background for all Latin students, the regular meetings were devoted to stories of the lives of noted Romans, accounts of Roman life, episodes from Roman history, and lectures on Roman arts, customs, and religion.

This year the Classical Club inaugurated two new and interesting features at Hyde Park. The first was the Open Meeting held for the benefit of non-members. This meeting met with great success, and the lectures and fascinating exhibits won high commendation. The second was the Combined Meeting of All the Language Clubs in Hyde Park, at which each language club presented an original program. It is intended that this latter meeting shall become a custom in Hyde Park, so that language students may meet on a common ground and become acquainted with other foreign tongues.

The Classical Club is sponsored by Miss Mix and Mrs. Rivers, and is indebted to these teachers for no small measure of its success.

AFTER eight years of inactivity the German Club was re-established two years ago at the request of many students anxious to further their knowledge and understanding of German. At that time the club chose Miss Witte and Mrs. Rivers as its sponsors, and they have since piloted the organization to the great heights it has attained.

Although the club incidently provides an outlet for social activity for those students interested in German, its foremost purpose is to promote knowledge of Germany: its language, its people, its customs, its literature, its art, and its history. This the German Club attempted and succeeded in doing by supplementing the work of the classroom. As a part of its work the club also provided tutors to aid German students failing in that subject.

Following Miss Witte's suggestion that entertainment be provided for each meeting, throughout the year German music, poetry, plays, stories, and games furnished the entertainment and were most enthusiastically received. The outstanding events of the year, however, were the theatre party and the assembly given by the club in honor of the famous German poet, Johann Goethe, and the great Austrian composer, Joseph Haydn.

THE Spanish Club, now in its second year of organization, offers Spanish students a distinctive opportunity to learn more of Spain, and of Spanish customs, language, art and literature than can be acquired in the classroom.

Entertaining and educational programs, including, not only the games, humorous recitations, piano selections, dances, and a very entertaining debate given by members of the club, but also the intensely interesting programs provided by various Spanish notables, were furnished at the weekly meetings. During the past year El Círculo Español has been privileged to hear Mrs. King a noted authority on the Spanish language and customs, lecture on "Spain, the New Republic" and Mr. Braschi, former consul from Honduras, speak on life in Porto Rico and Honduras. The club also had the pleasure of listening to the beautiful voice of Mrs. Milla Dominquez, the wife of the vice-consul from Mexico. In addition to its other activities, the club took an active part in both the Alumni Meet and the combined meeting of all the language clubs.

Both sponsors, Mrs. Flores and Mrs. Maloy, who was recently chosen to assist Mrs. Flores, have been an invaluable asset to the club and have contributed much to its success.

THE Story Scribblers' Society is Hyde Park's only outlet for students who have literary ability. This club encourages the development and improvement of such ability, attempting to bring out the best in the individual. To become a member a student must submit a piece of original prose or poetry, and those students submitting the best contributions are accepted as members.

It has been customary in previous years for the society to publish the Scroll, a semi-annual school magazine, containing the best literary efforts of Hyde Park. From a small booklet to the large 1931 edition, a thirty-two page magazine, each year the Scroll has added many improvements and this year its efforts were rewarded, for the publication received Distinguished Rating from the Illinois State High School Press Association.

This year the club concentrated wholly on improving the ability of its members by talks, discussions, suggestions, and criticism. During the year several members of the faculty spoke to the club on many phases of story and poetry writing. Some of the members also gave very profitable talks on the different types of writing and how to improve individual style.

Miss Hinkley, the club's sponsor deserves much appreciation for her helpful advice and willing cooperation.

THE enthusiasm of Hyde Parkers interested in plant studies has been the reason for the continued success of the Garden Club in its long years of service in Hyde Park. The purpose of the organization is to create further interest in plants and their environment. The club also provides social activities for its members. This year's delightful Christmas party and the elm tree birthday party were evidences of the good times the Garden enjoys.

The meetings of the year provided a variety of programs, including interesting tours, and talks by both the members and outside speakers. The tour through the Turtox Biological Supply House, where the members were shown the processes of preparation of biological study material and the trip to the World's Fair Administration Building, where they learned the part plants will play in the Century of Progress Exposition, were two of the outstanding events of the year.

Four especially enjoyable meetings also helped to make the year's program exceptionally worth-while. One meeting provided a special tree program. At another Mr. Balthis delivered an illustrated lecture on the Garfield Park Conservatory. A third was devoted to the bi-centennial celebration of George Washington's birth, and a fourth was a very impressive Arbor Day program.

Miss Fuchs, the club's sponsor, has done much to make the Garden Club one of the finest organizations in the school.

ONE of the oldest clubs in Hyde Park, the Fur, Feather, and Fin Club has played an important part in the life of budding zoologists. This year the membership was made up entirely of students who have done "S" or "E" work in zoology as the club offered advanced work in that subject, encouraging such individual effort as might tend toward future research study. The club also serves to prepare its members for the annual University of Chicago Scholarship examination in zoology.

Besides bird study and various interesting zoological experiments, the club included in its year's program a trip through the General Biological Supply House. In the spring the club met in the park for bird hunts and many of the members assisted Mrs. Young's zoology students in their quest for birds by accompanying them on their field trips in Jackson Park. In connection with their study of birds, the club took a bird census of migration for 1932. The regular tours in the park helped the members to acquaint themselves with the furred and feathered creatures of nature that inhabit the vicinity.

The club again this year published its monthly paper, the Scarab, which contains much interesting material dealing with zoology.

At the end of a year of interesting and constructive work, the members turn to their sponsor, Mrs. Young, to express their deepest appreciation for her splendid cooperation in the interest of Fur, Feather, and Fin.

WITH the growing student interest in political and social problems came the need for an extra-curricular form of activities in these fields, and in the spring of 1931 a petition, signed by a large number of social science students, was submitted to Mr. Hipple, chairman of that department, asking for the formation of a club to fill this need. With this permission granted, a constitution was drafted, and in the fall the first meeting of the Forum (as this new organization was to be called) was held and the constitution was adopted.

The Forum was to provide for intelligent discussion, formal and informal debates, and lectures by prominent speakers on political, civic, economic, and social problems of the past and present. Such subjects as unemployment insurance, England and the American colonies, and the national prohibition questions furnished exciting and interesting material for discussion and debate, during the first semester.

industrial democracy, was climaxed by the presence of Dr. Preston Bradley of the Peoples Church of Chicago. He spoke on "The Business of Living" before an enthusiastic audience of over two hundred and fifty students.

Mr. Loomis opened the lectures of the second semester with a talk on the single tax. He was followed by Dr. Levi, a prominent civic leader of Chicago, who addressed the club on "Washington, the Man" at a special Washington meeting. Also during the first semester Mr. Smalley, a proponent of simplified spelling defended and advocated this form of spelling in a formal debate with Miss Paine of the English department.

Besides the regular meetings, during which the members took part in debates and open discussions on such topics as internationalism, socialism, unemployment relief, and recognition of Russia, the semester's program included addresses by Dr. Bower of the University of Chicago on "Creative Education," by Dr. Lovett, also of the University of Chicago, on "The Work of the Civil Liberties Union," by Dr. Wotan of the Utilities Publication Company on "Private Ownership," and by Dean Gilky of the University of Chicago Chapel on "Why Young People Think As They Do."

As extra projects the Forum published a small monthly newspaper, the Forum Flash, sponsored Hyde Park's participation in the nation-wide Washington Bi-centennial celebration, and was instrumental in organizing the All-Chicago High School Forum.

In its brief existence the Forum has made for itself a brilliant record of achievement, rivaling that of any of the older and more firmly established clubs at Hyde Park, and has truly been the outstanding organization of the year. This has been due in part to the helpful advice and willing cooperation of Mr. Hipple, the sponsor.

THE Chess Club offers chess enthusiasts a place where they may amuse themselves in their leisure time and prepares promising players for a position on the school team. Beginners, and even those who know nothing at all about the game, are welcome at all times. Members of the club are always willing to instruct novices, while a more experienced player will always find an interesting game awaiting him at the Chess Club.

Shortly after the opening meeting of each year, the club holds a tournament to determine the members of the team. It also stages a yearly round-robin tournament for all the members, so that they may gain experience in competition and may put into practice any knowledge which they may have gained.

This year, shortly after the conclusion of the city high school chess tourney, Mr. Bisno, chess champion of Arizona and Oklahoma, played and defeated the members of the club in thirteen simultaneous games, and also later in the semester he was again triumphant in a return match with seven of the club's outstanding players. The second semester the club was again host to a noted champion. Mr. Factor, for several years chess champion of the city, was invited to play three members of the club in simultaneous blindfold play.

Thus the club enjoyed a year of unusual activity with Mr. Morse, the sponsor, who, by his enthusiastic interest and wide knowledge of the game, is largely responsible for the fine showing of both the club and the team.

THE Hyde Park Chess Team began this year's league matches November 13 and after defeating Morgan Park and Englewood, won the south section championship by defeating Tilden and Fenger. The Blue and White team then entered the round-robin tournament with the north and west section champs for the city shield. Winning every meet by a decisive score, Hyde Park was unbeaten until they met Crane, and though the latter had a veteran team, they had to put up a strong fight for the title. Thus, since inter-school chess competition began eight years ago, Hyde Park has been twice runner-up and six times champion in the city meets.

THE Bridge Club is one of Hyde Park's most popular organizations, boasting a practically one-hundred per cent attendance for its weekly meetings. These meetings are devoted in part to instruction by the sponsor, Mr. Nyberg, in the principles and conventions of correct bidding and playing. The remainder of each meeting is spent in putting into practice the information gained. As a test of what each member learns from these weekly lessons, several times during each semester twelve members were asked to play the same hand at three different tables, in order to see which table could make the most out of the same hand.

The main activity of each semester, however, is a tournament, and this year, in addition to the regular tournament, a consolation tournament was held for the losers in the first three rounds of the main contest. David Citron and Emy Stern were the winners of both the fall and the spring tournament, and each received, as a prize, a bridge table cover with full instructions, for bidding in contract bridge, printed on it. Nelson Estes and Stanley Rubenstein were proclaimed the victors in the Fall consolation tournament.

The organization owes its thanks to Mr. Nyberg for his most helpful instructions and valuable advice.

IN the spring of 1930 the Ping Pong Club was organized by Burton Kohn and Leland Winter to provide indoor recreation during the winter months for those who find this game to their liking. It is not necessary to know how to play ping pong to join, but this year when it became known that the club would again be organized, so many students applied for membership that it was decided to limit the number to forty. The dues are twenty-five cents, and this money goes toward furnishing the equipment.

For the club, the ping pong season generally extends from December to May, during which time a tournament, one for the boys and another for the girls, is held to determine the champion player in the club. This year, however, due to an unavoidably late start, the club devoted its time to friendly games between the members. These were played at the club meetings, which were held every Tuesday and Thursday, eighth and ninth hour in the school lunch-room. As no tournament was held, Aaron Sayvetz and Charles Polacheck are still the champions with the tie yet to be played off.

As each year brings more ping pong enthusiasts, it is hoped that this ancient game will gain enough recognition to become an inter-school sport. If this should occur, the Ping Pong Club is confident it could furnish a good team.

Miss Frye, the sponsor of the club, is very much interested in this organization and devotes much of her time in furthering its development.

THE purpose of the Hyde Park P. T. A. is to give the parents of Hyde Park students an opportunity to know the school—to become acquainted with the faculty and with the activities and fields of education that Hyde Park affords. This year these opportunities were afforded the parents at the annual fathers' and annual mothers' reception to the teachers and at the meetings at which members of the faculty and student body spoke on the various subjects and activities offered at Hyde Park.

The P. T. A. has also another and very important purpose, that of providing means of contributing to the financial aid of needy students. This year through the Children's Scholarship League, it maintained a two-hundred dollar scholarship for a Hyde Park student and provided for three scholarships of fifteen dollars per month for the first semester and part of the second.

To carry out these worthy projects the P. T. A. held a card party, a dance for the students, and presented a three-act play, "Tons of Money." Aside from the money realized on these undertakings, the organization also received money from the lunchroom for the donated services of six of its members, from the royalties on the text books written by Mr. Nyberg, which he so graciously donates, and from donations of the February class of '32, the A. C. L., and the Garden Club.

Orchestra

MISS FINLEY, Conductor

THE Orchestra, under the very capable direction of Miss Finley, has enjoyed a year of constructive work from both a practical and an artistic standpoint. Rehearsals have become an end in themselves rather than a means of earning credit (though it be for diligent work) or the preparation for a concert or a contest.

There are two branches of the Orchestra, the senior and the junior. Both meet as a class for the study of symphonic music, for instruction on orchestral compositions and instruments, and for practice in ensemble playing.

This class also acts as a preparation for membership in the All-City Orchestra. This year eight Hyde Parkers added their names to the roster of this orchestra, making it a total of fourteen members from Hyde Park alone. Inasmuch as the All-City Orchestra is composed of the best talent in the city high school orchestras, it is a tribute to Miss Finley and the Hyde Park Orchestra that so many Hyde Parkers are members.

This year, for the first time in four years, a violin class was conducted in Hyde Park for the purpose of "rediscovering" and encouraging talent along that line. This year also, for the first time in its existence, letters were awarded to members of the orchestra. Only those, however, who had played in the senior orchestra for at least a year were eligible to receive these awards.

During the year the Orchestra entertained at the senior plays, the operetta, a number of P. T. A. meetings, presented programs at school assemblies, and played at the commencement exercises. All of these performances met with much success due in a large measure to the untiring efforts of Miss Finley.

TO be included in the membership of the Treble Clef Club is a privilege much sought after by those girls who wish to study and interpret choral music with a congenial group of associates. Members of the organization are chosen on the basis of their personality, their voices, and their ability to read music. Those girls who are so fortunate as to qualify for admittance to the Treble Clef Club have in store for them a season of musical enjoyment and advancement under the able leadership of the sponsor of the Treble Clef, Mr. O. E. Robinson, who is an outstanding figure in the musical life of both Hyde Park and the city at large.

In addition to preparing its members for the many musical programs it presents before the various school and neighborhood organizations, Treble Clef provides a training ground for both principals and members of the chorus of the Operetta, which is presented annually under Mr. Robinson's direction.

During the last year the club gave a number of interesting musical programs. In addition to their activities within the school, which consisted of programs presented before several assemblies and meetings of the Parent-Teacher Association, the girls sang at a meeting of the Woodlawn Woman's Club and gave a Christmas concert in the Lyon and Healy Studios. The club chorus won second place in the South Side High School Choral Contest, thus gaining the honor of participating in the annual musical festival held at Orchestra Hall.

In this, the eleventh year of its existence, the club has grown in importance and size until it now numbers ninety girls, including some of the most musically talented girls in Hyde Park. Meetings are held three times each week. These meetings are characterized by an atmosphere of enthusiasm shown for each new choral work which challenges the interest of the club. The greater portion of each meeting is devoted to practice and sight reading. The girls receive music credit for their work in Treble Clef as they go beyond the regular music class work.

It is a well known fact that more than one musical star began her career as a member of this organization. The club offers girls a fine opportunity to further cultivate their voices for a musical future. The club as a whole constantly endeavors to assist each individual member, and it may be truthfully said that no member ever goes forth from the club without an increased interest in, and appreciation for the best forms of choral music.

THE Boys' Glee Club enables boys who desire to make a serious study of selected choruses to secure training in vocal music to work under the skilled direction of Mr. Robinson in company with others who have a real interest in this type of work and to accomplish truly worth-while results. Membership to this commendable music group is limited to only those boys who wish to remain in the club from semester to semester. This is required so that the members can continue their work without a review for the benefit of newcomers. This plan enables the singers to continually increase their repertoire of songs and to become a really outstanding musical organization.

Every club owes to the school some service beyond that to its own members. The Boys' Glee Club renders this service through the presentation of interesting programs at school assemblies and other school functions. This year, in addition to participating in the semi-annual musical assembly, the club sang at four other assemblies and offered a share of the entertainment at the Hyde Park Parent Teacher Association "Fathers' Night Party" with various selections of their repertoire.

The club also renders a service to the community by contributing musical programs for many neighborhood club, civic organization, and grammar school functions. Besides these public programs given by the club during the year, several of its members have sung over the radio, and many took part, either as principals or as members of the chorus, in this year's operetta "Oh Doctor!" presented by the musical organizations of Hyde Park.

These public appearances represent for the members of the club, a public appraisal of the work done at the regular meetings. The meetings, which are held second division on Tuesday, Thursday, and Friday of each week, are devoted to the study and practice of musical compositions and voice training under the able, careful, and constant supervision of their director, Mr. Robinson.

This year, the enthusiastic response of the members to their excellent training made possible an opportunity to achieve very satisfactory results in all the work which the club undertook.

That this club has members who will make their mark in the musical world is evidenced by the fact that two of its members, Herman Genson and Charles Polacheck, were two of the three singers, representing the south side high schools, who were winners in the preliminaries of the vocal scholarship contest sponsored by the Mendelssohn Club, and by the fact that this scholarship, a year of private instruction with a prominent vocal teacher, was awarded to Herman Genson as the best senior boy vocalist from high schools of the south side.

All in all this past year has been one of the most successful and most eventful years in the history of the club.

THE Girls' Glee Club, under the excellent direction of Miss Grace Guller, has successfully completed a year of zealous activity. The purpose of this organization is to give a thorough knowledge of perfected choral music in four parts, to girls who show talent for voice work. Music credit is given to members of the club, which meets every day seventh period.

As the outstanding work of the fall semester, the club gave three very successful performances (one at the Gage Park Field House, another at the P. T. A. "Fathers' Night Party," and a third at an assembly) of their "Jinx Minstrel," a modern interpretation of the old time darky shows. The dialogue was all written by members of the club, who with the aid of Miss Guller planned the entire show.

During the spring semester the club did concert work, for which they studied songs in foreign languages. As a result of this, at a meeting of the German Club, they were able to render several selections all in German, and Latin and Russian melodies at a meeting of the Classical Club.

As a climax to the year's schedule, the club entered four of its members in a vocal contest sponsored by the American Academy of Teachers of Singing and fourteen girls in a musical contest at Orchestra Hall.

THE membership of the Musical Club consists of music lovers from every musical organization in Hyde Park. The programs have been as diversified as the groups themselves, and each program has represented most of their interests.

Among the most interesting programs of the year were the entertaining monthly jazz programs, the exceptionally novel program presented by the Rumunoff Quintet, and two delightful Alumni programs, featuring famous alumni of the club.

Both semesters, the club presented a musical assembly before the entire school. For the first semester, the performance was given in the form of a radio program and for the second in the form of a studio party.

The activities of the Musical club did not, however, end here. On February 11, several members broadcast a program over station WCFL, and in the spring the club entertained the inmates of the Home for Incurables.

Not only does the Musical Club serve those Hyde Parkers interested in music by furnishing an opportunity for them to meet and show their talent through performances before the club, but by its efforts to raise the standard of musical appreciation in Hyde Park and to encourage the development of high school talent among the student body, the club serves both the school and the entire community.

THE Rumunoff Quintet, which has often been called the most unique musical group in Hyde Park, was organized in September of 1931, by Miss Katherine Finley, to train these five girls in the technique of ensemble playing and to furnish musical entertainment at Hyde Park and at neighborhood church organizations and women's clubs.

The group met with immediate success and since then have made veritable leaps and bounds of progress. Their first appearance was before the Musical Club, for which they later gave many other performances, the most delightful of which was a novel program in the form of a musical trip through Europe. These appearances were followed in rapid succession by a concert given for the benefit of the rest of the Orchestra and any music lovers who wished to attend and by a program presented at both assemblies of the Musical Club.

The second semester found many church organizations and women's clubs among the audiences, outside of Hyde Park, for whom the quintet had played.

Due to the splendid supervision of Miss Finley, coupled with the fact that these girls possess outstanding talent in the art of ensemble playing the Quintet received much praise for their excellent performances. With such a beginning there is no doubt that these girls will succeed in continuing their work (as they intend to do) after graduation from Hyde Park.

THE Boys' Quintet, the newest "offspring" of the Orchestra, is the latest comer among the musical groups at Hyde Park. In February of this year, Alvin Schaar and Stephen Drnochod requested Miss Finley that they might organize a boys' quintet under her supervision. Obtaining her consent, the quintet became a reality and immediately began to make a name for itself.

This Boys' Quintet, being made up of string and wind instruments, is the first of its kind in the existence of Hyde Park. Its aim is to offer its talented members the opportunity to improve themselves on their favorite instruments, to become better acquainted with the art of ensemble playing, and to provide musical entertainment at meetings of Hyde Park clubs and organizations, at assemblies, and at the meetings of various neighborhood clubs and organizations, thus offering to others an opportunity to learn to appreciate the rich store-house of musical art.

Since its introduction to the school, the quintet has devoted its time to increasing its repertoire, which consists of standard selections, by holding rehearsals during division periods two and three times a week; and although during the semester it played at meetings of the Musical Club, due to its late start in the year, its public appearances were limited in comparison with other organizations of its kind; however, the boys are looking forward to a busy season next year.

THE Girls' String Quartet was organized in February, 1930. Since that time, there have been several groups, though under different names, which have also claimed the title of the Girls' String Quartet. The present group, organized in February of 1932, styles themselves, the Jamiskerne Quartet.

As they gradually became more proficient in the art of ensemble playing, the quartet began to offer its services to school clubs and activities and outside clubs and activities, and though they are a very new organization, they have already received recognition, having been asked to play at the meetings of such organizations as the Classical Club and the Musical Club. At the meetings of both of these clubs the quartet offered especially enjoyable programs of varied musical selections. The quartet also played at the Freshman Assembly, given the first day of the spring semester for the benefit of the incoming freshman. All the presentations at these different functions were greatly appreciated and were received with much applause and praise.

Due to the cooperation of the members of the quartet, who are willing, ambitious workers, and to the valuable assistance of Miss Finley, who gives much of her time in the interest of this group, the quartet have thus accomplished a great deal in spite of their recent formation. By next semester, however, they will have had practice enough to promise a year filled with many engagements.

THE Blue Mask Dramatic Club offers, to seniors interested in acting, a chance to develop and display any dramatic talent they may have. The club meets daily as a regular class, conducted by Miss Hardy, its sponsor, and these meetings are given over to the study of acting and of plays, both from a literary angle as well as from the standpoint of presentation. The students also receive instruction in directing, costuming, types of scenery, and stage effects.

This year in connection with their work as a class, the members viewed many current plays and made a trip through the General Lighting Institute, where they learned many interesting and valuable facts.

The main achievement of the club is the presentation, each fall and spring of a Senior Play. In accordance with the policy, innovated last year, of giving three one-act plays instead of one three-act production, this year three one-act plays, all comedies, were given each semester. The fall presentations were "Ze Moderne English," "Cabbages," and "The Flattering Word." In the spring the club presented "The Dear Departed," "The First Dress Suit," and "Good Medicine." During the year the club also staged other short plays, in addition to the numerous classroom productions, which are a part of the regular work of the organization.

A young doctor, struggling to make a livelihood for himself and his devoted wife, is paid a visit by Hetty Sage, and extremely wealthy woman who says she wants to know what is wrong with her. After carefully examining her he tells her that she has no ailments whatsoever. She insists, however, that she must have something as many doctors have told her she is a very sick woman and in need of treatments. Again the doctor examines her but finds nothing wrong with her. Both the doctor and his wife are beginning to think something is wrong with her when they receive the shock of their lives, for it turns out that this woman was looking for an honest doctor to head her million dollar hospital and because this young doctor did not try to find something wrong with her she decides to make him the head of the hospital.

THIS year, the Troupers, a dramatic organization sponsored by Mrs. Wightman and open to sophomores, juniors, and seniors interested in developing their dramatic ability, spent all of its time giving plays under the unique system inaugurated in the fall. This system provided that at every meeting a short play, each one to be directed by a different member, was to be given before the club. The club also presented "The Ghost Story" and "Gas, Air, and Earl" at assemblies and "Thank You Doctor" at an afternoon performance for the school.

AFTER a year of preparation "Oh Doctor!", a comic opera by the Chicagoan, John Palmer Clark, was presented before capacity audiences on the afternoon of Thursday, May 19, and the evening of Friday, May 20, in the school auditorium. The presentation, the twenty-first annual operetta, was given under the splendid direction of Mr. Robinson, who was ably assisted by Mrs. Hayden and Mrs. Perham in charge of the dancing, Miss Highley, the costumes, and Miss Gilbert and the willing and energetic Stage Force, the scenery. The high standards, which Mr. Robinson has set for his productions, were successfully upheld by the members of the cast in the presentation of the piece. The following is a synopsis of the operetta as it was given:

Somewhere east of the Rio Grande is a famous sanitarium operated by Dr. Drinkwater, who has disowned his only son because he married an actress. Drinkwater's wife has died and left all her money to his orphaned granddaughter, Glory, only on condition that she spend the last twenty-four hours before her twenty-first birthday with her grandfather. But Glory, like her mother and unbeknown to her grandfather, is also an actress. With her twenty-first birthday only two days away and desiring her grandmother's money, she sends her friend Honor to the Sanitarium in her place. Glory learning that her fiancé, Bob, has gone to the Sanitarium writes him a note of explanation, which Honor loses. The note is found by Rainbow, a colored servant, who is unable to read.

Philip, a ranch owner, and his men are hunting a Mexican rustler. They stop at the Sanitarium for water, where Philip sees Honor and is immediately attracted. But Honor hears Philip plotting to frighten everyone in the house with stories of the rustler, to make it possible for him to meet Honor without Drinkwater's knowledge, so that when the rustler really does come and carries off Bessie and Rainbow for ransom, she will not believe it and scorns Philip until he returns from the rescue wounded, with the rustler captive. But when Rainbow shows Philip the lost letter, he thinks from its contents that Honor is Bob's fiancée and has been deceiving him. Finally when the twenty-four hours are up Honor, in a few words of explanation, smooths the trouble away, and Dr. Drinkwater is overjoyed that Glory is engaged to Bob.

UNDER the very capable supervision of Sgt. Stamper this year the R. O. T. C. has been, as it has ever been since its introduction into Hyde Park, a well organized, efficient, and dependable body. To the battalion this year has brought many changes; many honors, both to the battalion as a whole and to individual members; increased activity, both within and outside of the unit; and unusual success in its many enterprises.

The unit began the year with a complete revision of drill, and a new method of treating delinquents was installed with an "officer of the day" detention system, which soon increased the discipline of the unit. This year also saw the formation of an advanced company class, conducted for the benefit of all officers to better prepare them for their duties.

Outstanding among the individual honors was the conferring of the rank of Colonel of the Brigade Staff upon a member of Hyde Park's battalion. This office is the highest position available to a high school cadet.

Not only does the Hyde Park R. O. T. C. function to serve its members, but, in furnishing cadets of high standing as hall guard to keep the corridors cleared during division periods and as both guards and ushers at many school events, this organization renders a valuable service to the school.

THE Hyde Park Band, which is divided into four sections, the Beginners' Band, the Junior Band, the Parade Band, and the Senior or Concert Band, just completed another year of varied activity.

In addition to representing Hyde Park at all its league football games, the Parade Band led an impromptu parade after the Tilden game, played at the Pep assembly and at the annual inspection of the University of Chicago R. O. T. C.

The Concert Band had an equally active season. In April it gave a concert for the Hyde Park P. T. A., and with the commencement of the band contest season was well represented in the solo and group events, winning a first and second place in the former.

Though the Band enjoyed excellent leadership under William Corley, Abe Schlifke, and Jerrold Snett, Captain Fagan deserves the most credit for expending all his efforts toward the development of a fine band.

THE Commissioned Officers' Club, by affording a means for friendly cooperation among the commissioned officers, aims to increase the efficiency of the battalion as a whole, both in class and on the field. This year has been an unusually active one, and the club has met with much success in all of its undertakings.

During the year the meetings were devoted to discussions of questions concerning the welfare of the battalion and on methods of improving the discipline of the unit and of encouraging military courtesy among the cadets. The club provided the officers the opportunity to undertake the more difficult problems of scouting and patrolling by holding meetings in Jackson Park, where these problems could actually be worked out. The club also staged skeleton reviews in the Park to give its members a chance to practice, without the men, their commands for the movements of the review.

The activities of the club are not, however, limited to the solving of problems of military science, they also include social events; and this year the organization completed a most successful social season. In December the club held its fourth annual military ball and was one of the many organizations, from all over the city, that assisted in promoting the success of the second All-Chicago High Schools' R. O. T. C. Military Ball.

THE Non-Commissioned Officers' Club, having completed its sixth year of activity, has a splendid record of achievement. This club provides a training ground for the junior officers by offering them the opportunity of broadening their knowledge of military tactics by doing original thinking and work in the field of military science.

The club endeavors to better qualify the non-commissioned officer for his duties as a commissioned officer—to acquaint him with the problems that will confront him when he is in command. In order to accomplish this aim, at the regular meetings, lectures are given by commissioned officers who are specialists in their fields. Thus by securing these senior officers to discuss various phases of their work with them, the members of the club come to a better understanding of subjects that are sometimes difficult to grasp and become familiar with military tactics other than those studied in daily drill.

To describe the club's outside activities is to describe the life of the unit, for the club brings to the battalion that fine cooperation, so essential to a smoothly working unit.

Rifle Team

THE Hyde Park Rifle Team has again this year made an excellent showing in its various matches. Under the able leadership of Cadet Major George Peterson the marksmen rounded into form and entered in their first competition of the year, the City Rifle Meet, Saturday, October 24, at the Lincoln Park Police Pistol Range. The team, composed of five cadets, Jerome Block, Frank Brown, Elbert Loyd, Gerhard Sprengling, and the captain, George Peterson, placed seventh in a field of twenty teams with the high score of 913 points, despite the fact that the entire team, with the exception of George Peterson and Elbert Loyd, was made up of new men. In this match Gerhard Sprengling was Hyde Park's high point man with a total of 225 points.

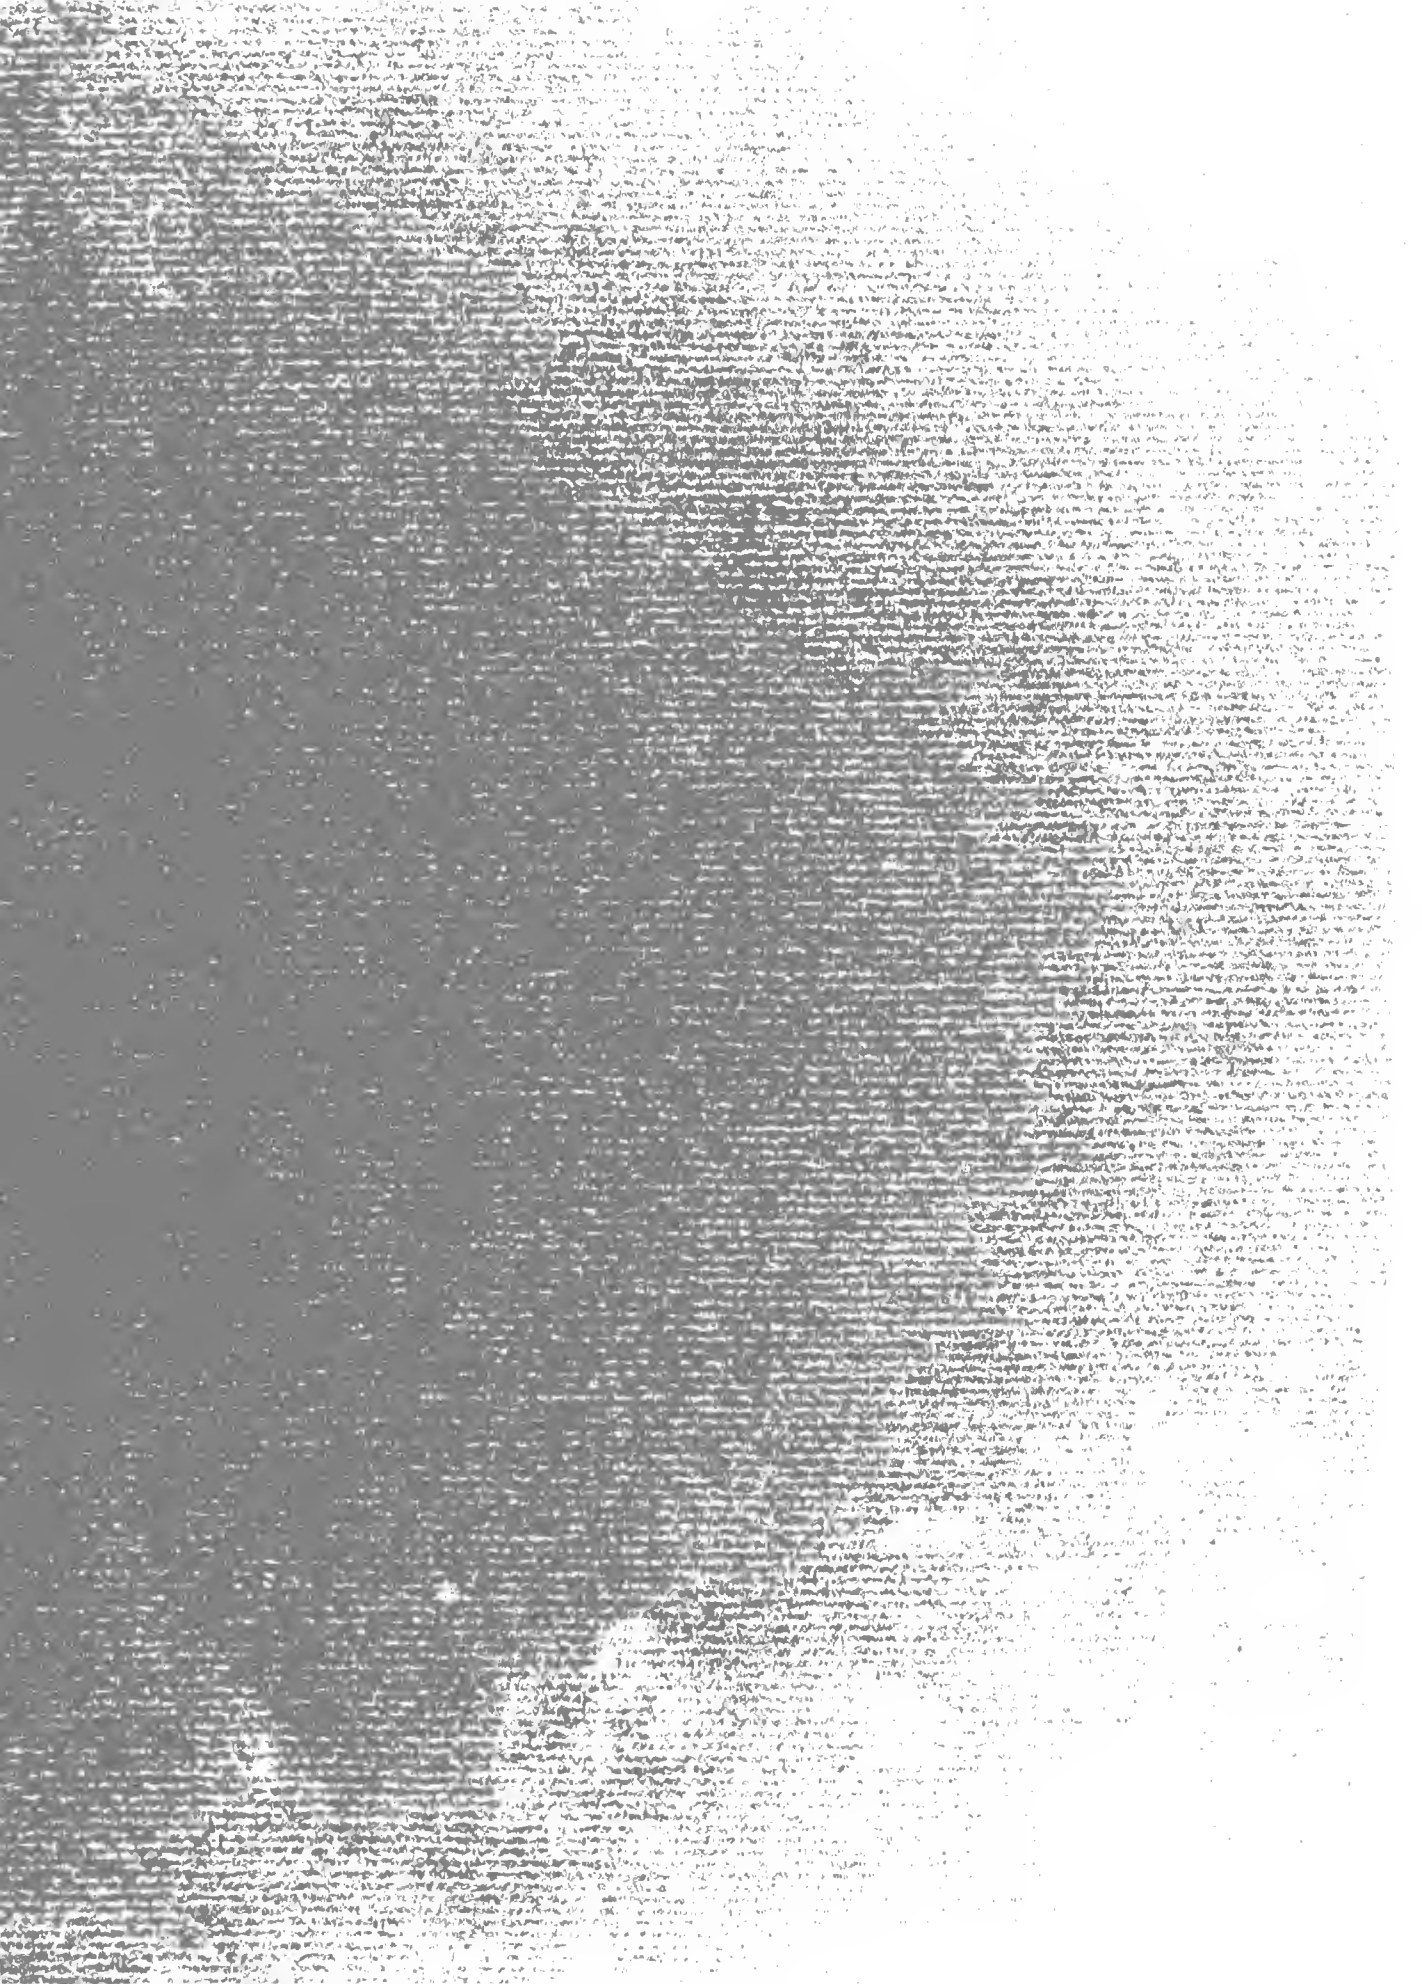

In February the team entered the Sixth Corps Area Match. The following are the Blue and White individual scores for that meet:

Gerhard Sprengling	320	Fred Loyd	249
Frank Brown	291	John Hodgson	238
Jerome Block	277	George Peterson	222
Kurt Sprengling	260	Hal Staehling	202
Edwin Kurk	242	Milton Greenberg	185

In March the William Randolph Hearst Trophy Meet was shot, and as in previous years Hyde Park placed well at the top of the list.

One of the team's main standbys and an instructor in rifle marksmanship at Hyde Park, Sergeant Jerome Block, received, this year, the Distinguished Marksman bar, the N. R. A.'s highest honor. With such expert marksmen numbered among its members, Hyde Park's Rifle Team can look forward to next year as having fine prospects for much success.

SABBATICAL

They say "Rolling stones gather no moss," but according to Miss Franklin travelers in Palestine gather much food for thought.

Miss Lillian Byfield, now Mrs. A. B. Bear to you, enjoyed her sabbatical leave with her newly acquired husband. Incidentally she studied French.

Miss Coppersmith is leisurely spending her permanent sabbatical leave.

Miss Parker helped business for Traveler's Checks and Pass Ports on her sabbatical leave. She also kept several European jewelry shop keepers in bread for a few days

LEAVE

Miss Eleanor Moore diligently studied mathematics at the University of Chicago while on her sabbatical leave

Maurice Ottosen's law books among many other things claimed his free time

Doris E. Butts commonly called "Aunt Doris" by the herd, spent her time, money and sabbatical leave way down south in good old Palm Beach, "my home town."

Burning the midnight oil and gabbing during the day-time proved to be popular past-times of Misses M. O'Connor and M. Zvarski.

The First Coeducational High School

YOUNG men and women received their first opportunity to attend the same school in Chicago when the Central High School opened at Halsted and Monroe Streets in October, 1856. Prospective students were given an examination including arithmetic, geography, spelling, history, and grammar in which they were obliged to earn a grade of fifty per cent before they were allowed to enter the school. The first examination eliminated all but 114 of the 158 entrants. In December of the same year another examination was given. An average of fifty-seven per cent was required and this time only fifty-one passed. Two hundred and four wrote the examination. The name "Central High School," however, soon became the English High and Manual Training School.

Due to a shift in the wind during the Chicago Fire of 1871 the building was left untouched even though it was in the heart of the fire area. It was used as a school until 1890 when the building was changed to a warehouse by the Board of Education.

At the time of the last World's Fair there were two thousand less students enrolled in all the Chicago high schools than there are in Lane Tech today. Since the fair the co-educational enrollment has increased so that the largest high school of today is Carl Schurz, having a registration of 9,149 boys and girls. Hyde Park enrolled 4,288 students in the main building alone last September.

United We Stand

"O F thee we sing," Room 213. Now we turn on our powerful spot light and focus it on two modest notables. Come, come, William Walton Kincy, your R. O. T. C. uniform looks fine, and incidentally, how are the Treasurer's books for the June class? As for you, Miss Ruth Jean Matthew, are you or are you not guilty of being a Senior Sponsor, Chairman of the Flower Committee for the June class, and an honor student? Spare your blushes because we will now turn our bright light upon the stage of activity where there are gathered both vocalists and dramatists who are widely known and highly popular. To the right we see Sally Frame, Esther Janowitz, William Rindfuss, and Dorothy Wells, those ever-present artists. They are, apparently, arguing over who should play the lead in the next play; up steps Lassie Zar and settles the momentous question. To the left, my dear readers, are Edward Putt and Bernina Ward, and Oh! my dear! Are they whooping it up!

Our light shifts again and this time we bring into view the fiery and enthusiastic Mildred Eaton giving a big sigh of relief. After a long and heated discussion, she has, at last, been able to convince Ruth Eddy, a notable math shark; Jane Devlin, a four year Sigma Epsilon; Hildur Westlund, a member of the honorary society of Senior Sponsors; Robert Scher, and Robert Johnson, both prominent specialists in their own fields; and those two remarkable oddities, the Le Fevour twins, that the Aitchpe '32 is undoubtedly an asset to anyone's library. Now the two Elizabeths, Loughborough and Burrows come under our focus and attention. The former is a skilled gymnast and a prominent athlete; the latter is a serious scholar.

Let us "consider the source" of this fame and prominence. It is plain to be seen that Miss Parker as the division-room teacher and leader of Room 213 has, through her wise counsel and her sympathetic understanding of pupils' problems contributed immensely toward the well-deserved success of this room.

Hazlett's Hounds

LADIES and Gentlemen! Look very closely. On this side of the page we will attempt to honor, reveal, and embarrass a few of the inmates of Room 328.

First let us consider that eminent person Bland Button. He not only has brawn but brains. He is a member of Euclidean, and is one of those four year Sigma Epsilons. Perhaps he is better known to you as a member of the lightweight basket ball team. What a man, Button!

Second, good old Lawrence Flickner, the love man of Hyde Park, our first class advertising manager of the Weekly. Folks tell us that he was secretary of the Forum and you will probably be able to place him by the following vivid description. Frequently he is seen in a black shirt, a white tie, and purple trousers.

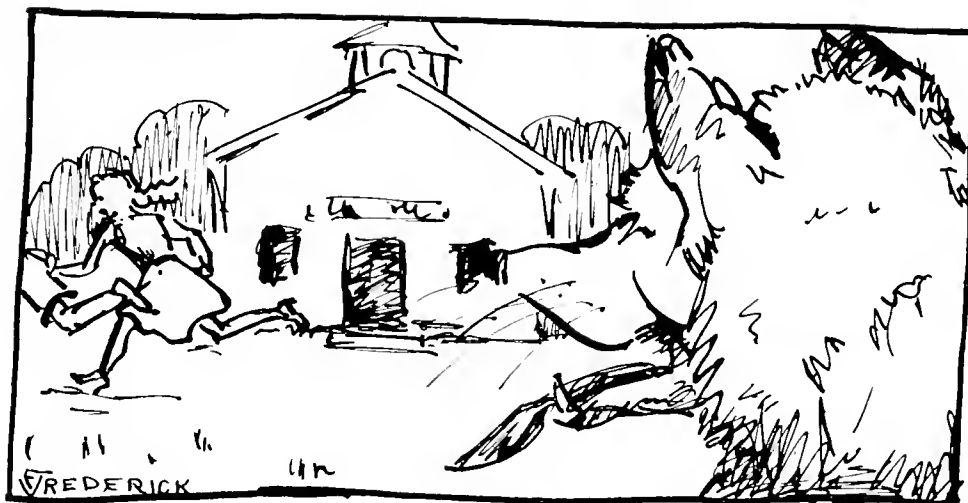

Next is Lydia Levinson who has great ambitions to become a member of the Cubs team, and to become a pianist without practicing. She is a Sigma Epsilon and the secretary of the Classical Club. We wish you the best of luck, Lydia old pal, old pal!

Larry Cone, did we hear some one say? Ah! Do you mean Lawrence Cone, Junior, by any chance? Yes, he is the president of the 4B class and a letter-man on our splashy swimming team.

The following person is one of high scholastic standing. Louise Goodman not only shines as a pupil but as a fellow student and as Organization Editor of the "Aitchpe '32." Being a very, very versatile person she tries to sing, cook, and dance. What more could you want?

Rachel Parker, step up and take your bow. A student, an organization leader, and a gardener are a few names which can be used to apply to "Ray" as she is called by her friends.

"Tiny," the six feet of muscle, is a football hero, a member of the operetta, and glee club, and is an "Itty Bitty" letterman. This hero is Adolph Brez.

Fuchs' Foxes

AS for this side of the page, we are going to run down and write up Room 219. Apropos, Room 219 and Room 328 are rival contestants for the leadership of the grand and glorious 4B class. May the best men win!

Jean Hoebel first comes to our notice as the popular Vice-President of the 4B class, and as an ever present member of the Annual staff. One peculiar thing about her is that shadow around her, or maybe she calls it nice—Who can tell?

Following closely in the tracks of Jean is Ruth Allison, her "Pal." She is not satisfied with being secretary of the 4B class, and a staunch Sigma Epsilon; she must also be on the Annual staff and have curly hair.

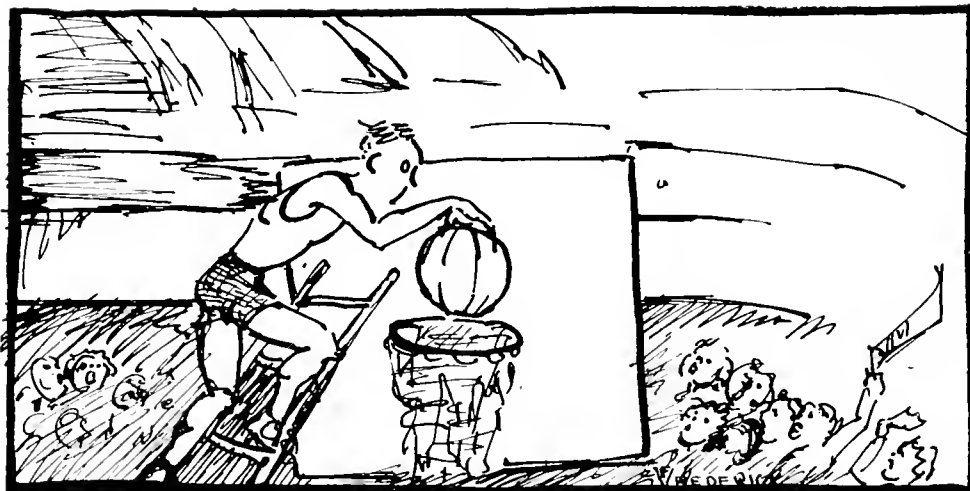

"Shoot—go ahead—shoot" are merely some of the every day, familiar words which Charles Chomsky, the keeper of the exchequer for the 4B class, hears during the basket ball season.

With all due respect to our publication competitor, the "W. K." Weekly, we now write about Joel Herron. Popular both among his classmates and teachers, Joel has made a fine record for himself at Hyde Park.

"Where is my Prince Charming?" These words sound familiar to some. What say, Sibyl? In case you don't know of whom we speak, we mean Sibyl Goldstein, the treasurer of Senior girls, and a member of Senior Dramatics. She is also the girl who has at some time or other tried every one of the many pianos in school.

Another prominent occupant of space in the Annual room from this division is the golden-haired Mary Charles. Just ask us—can she pound those keys, and is she smart? Ask us—we know.

"Strike three!—Aw Shucks!" says Bob Dustin as he drops the old bat in disgust and takes the old place on the bench. We aren't, of course, the betting kind, but we think that's just what he says.

Slaught's Slayers

THE "Four Hundred" have nothing on room 342. At their coming-out party not so long ago at the home of Mademoiselle Slaughter, or in other words Aunt Kate, we were able to get a more intimate view into the lives of some of their modest celebrities.

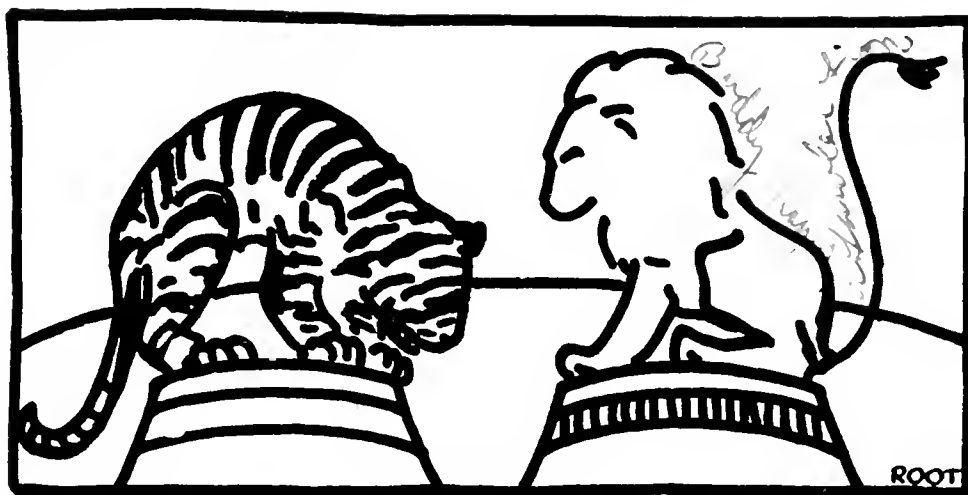

Among the first to arrive were "Our Dancing Daughters," Misses Dorothy Schless and Marian Blanchard, who by the way are scholars as well as dancers.

"Peanut" Fleishman accompanied by the well known "Eddie Cantor" of the room, Jimmy Bernard, showed their beaming countenances just in time for those timely refreshments.

After tuning in Wayne King, the couples began to dance to the strains of "The Waltz You Saved For Me," and who should we see together but those ever popular persons, Norman Davidson (and he wasn't talking mathematics or basket ball) and Bonita Lillie, the cream of the Junior Class, who, incidentally is their Vice-President. "Bonnie" was one of the representatives from Hyde Park to the All Chicago High School Girl's Conference in the fall of 1931 and she was also elected Vice-President of that.

After several hours of dancing, we rested our weary bones and aching feet while the actresses, Helaine Rosenbluth and Judith Epstein, combined their efforts with the musically inclined Virginia Jarman and Joan Frankenstein to entertain us with a musical skit. More entertainment was called for, so the "Aitchpe Tribe" girls, Andrea Hoiyaux, Alice Nichols, Nellie Nichols. Dorothy Hubenet stepped to the front.

As we were leaving the charming party, the fact was made very clear to us that even though there are only seven boys in the room, 342 won a basket ball pennant for the fall semester of 1930. Keep up the good work 342, Hyde Park and the Annual are expecting still bigger things from you in the near future.

Tunnel's Tigers

RISE from the unknown into the known we congratulate you Room 151. The next rung on the ladder will bring you into the realm of sophisticated sophomores. Watch you step or you may overdo your sophistication.

"Dress properly, comfortably and inexpensively," say Eleanor Fox, Loretta Sharding, and Jean Meyers, who were style dictators for a fashion show given by the Freshman Girl Reserves.

Phyllis Crossman, treasurer of the Freshman Girl Reserves, is also Captain of the Girl's Interclass Volleyball Team.

To the strain of Spanish music played by two guitars we write about Marialena Tullon. Born in South America, she moved first to New Orleans then to our "windy city."

Now let us mention the scholars Rex Hammond and John Waldruff, whom we believe will be first rate senior material.

Lawler's Lions

Now Room 112 is proudly passing before the grandstand where the judges are patiently and eagerly waiting to pass judgment.

First come the Sigma Epsilons tripping over one another to be the first in line. Lois Bernstein who by the way was a nominee for "Miss Aitchpe", Marjorie Edelstein, Bobette Wilson, and Marianna Crips.

Next come the athletes. Richard Gilbert, who represents three sports. Buddy Mayer and Morris Rossin carrying a basketball and Bruce Saipe all decked out to fence anyone.

Then come the musicians featuring John McManners of the orchestra and Helen Gardington of the Glee Club.

Bi-Centennial Celebration

Forum

IN accordance with the nation-wide Bi-Centennial celebration of George Washington's birthday, the Hyde Park Forum sponsored several assemblies and distributed biographical excerpts.

"Washington the Man" was discussed by Dr. Girson B. Levi at an afternoon assembly. Teachers of the Social Science Department were asked to stress facts about Washington in their classes in order to emphasize the importance of the event.

A very clever play, "Washington's Birthday Party," was presented under the able direction of Miss Hardy. George Washington was portrayed by Daniel Davis and Martha Washington was played by Luciene Frank. Other characters included Sara Zar, Sibyl Goldstein, William Rindfuss, Charlotte Pilot, and Albert Bard.

Garden Club

In April, 1931, the American Tree Association of Washington, D. C., sent to all high schools in the United States requests to plant trees to commemorate the two hundredth anniversary of Washington's birthday. This was done to encourage tree-planting to show a high respect for the great men of our country. The Garden Club, sponsor of Hyde Park's celebration, selected the southeast corner of the south garden as the site for the planting of their Washington elm. Under the direction of Miss Fuchs the ceremony was conducted. Officers of the club participated in the planting. Hyde Parkers contributed the money for the tree which was bought from the Krause nursery. The band added a highly festive note to the occasion, while Mr. Loomis lent his august presence to the affair.

ACHIEVEMENT—PLUS

APPARENTLY the achievements of Hyde Park High School students and former students are without limitation. The skill and intelligence with which this volume was written and compiled by AITCHPE staff members and their associates reflects the thoroughness of training available at what is unquestionably one of America's finest educational institutions.

The community and the nation have been signally benefited by the thought and deeds of many who have received their training at Hyde Park.

On the very day that this is written we learn that a former Hyde Park girl has spanned the ocean by airplane, alone—one of the two persons in all history to successfully perform such a glorious feat.

It is entirely fitting that such a modern school should look to a thoroughly modern printing establishment for the mechanical production of its Year Book. Our new and enlarged plant, our personnel and our equipment are as up-to-date as unsurpassed resources and human ingenuity can provide. New type designs, the latest in type setting machines, high-speed automatic presses and binding machinery, all operated by skilled workers, assure correct style and attractive results in printing.
